MEXICAN SOLDIERS SHOOT U. S. FLYER

STRIKES ARE PROHIBITED IN NEW RY. BILL

Private Ownership With Federal Control Provided in Measure Submitted to Senate by Commerce Committee

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—Private ownership and operation of railroads in a number of regional systems under strict government control, with strikes and lockouts of railroad employees prohibited, is the plan for permanent railroad regulations submitted to the senate today by the interstate commerce committee.

A tentative bill embodying the sub-committee's recommendations had been introduced by Chairman Cummins and referred to the full interstate commerce committee. The bill is the result of many months' work by the sub-committee which, besides Cummins, includes Senators Kellogg of Minnesota, and Poinsett of Washington, Republicans, and Fomeroy, Ohio, and Robinson of Arkansas, Democrats.

Salient provisions of the Cummins bill include:

Termination of government control and return of the railroads to private ownership on the last day of the month of enactment.

Establishing the interstate commerce commission with greatly increased powers as the supreme body over railroad affairs.

ALL DETAILS TO BE FEDERALLY CONTROLLED.

Supervision and control of virtually all railroad affairs, including rates, wages, operation and financing by the government.

Creation of a new railway transportation board of five members appointed by the President to supervise, regulate, develop and operate, subject to final action of the interstate commerce commission.

Creation of a new committee on employees and employers, with wide authority in settling labor questions, subject to decision of the transportation board and interstate commerce commission.

Prohibiting strikes and lockouts of railroad employees under fine and imprisonment penalties.

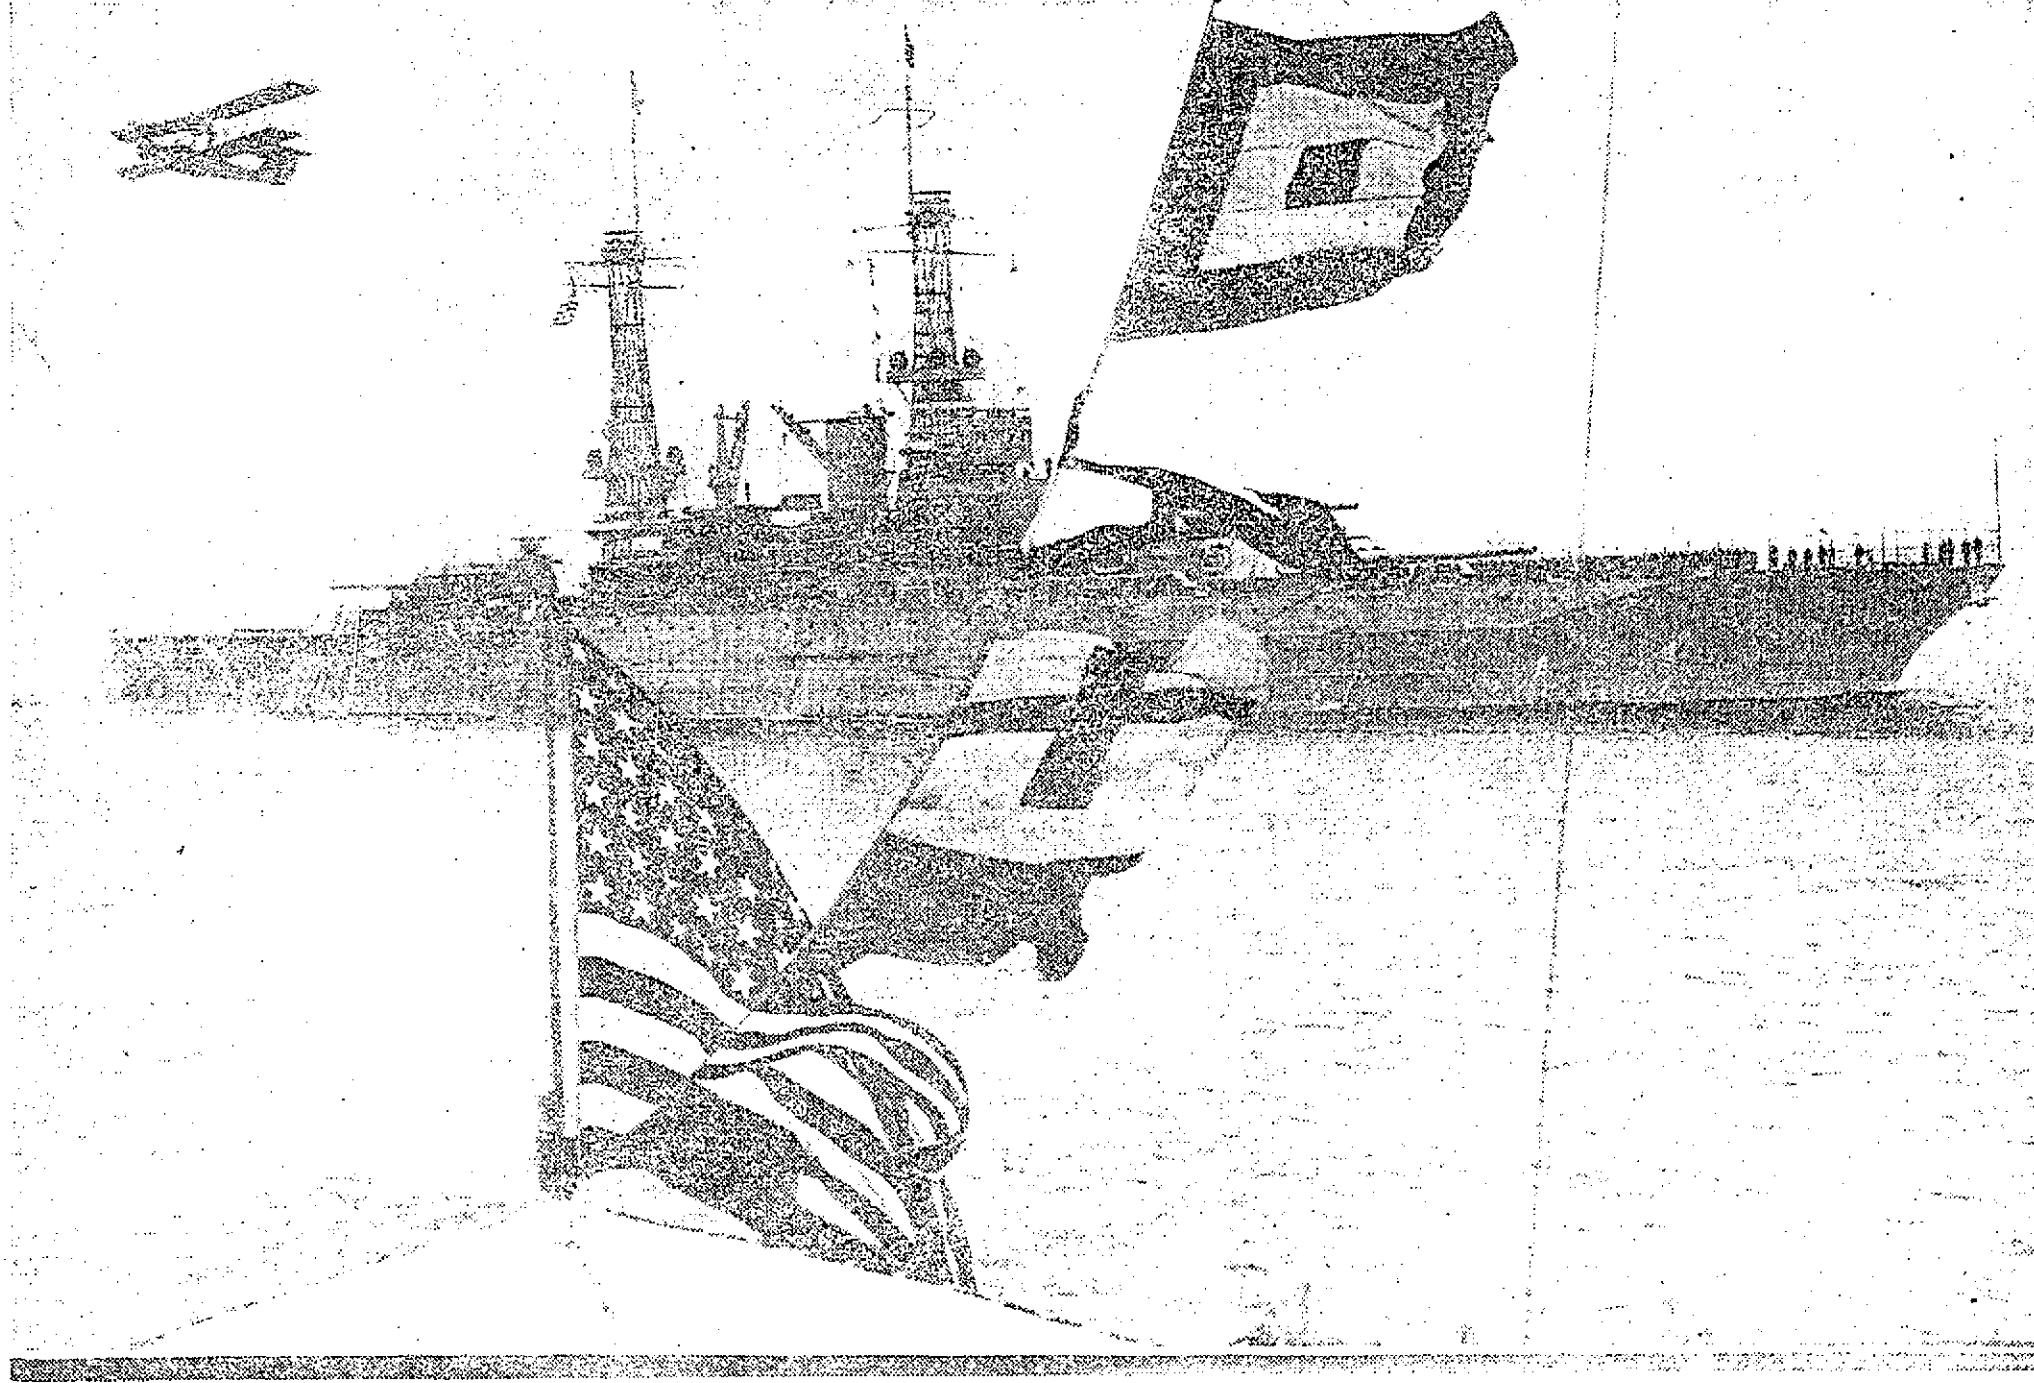

Defining a new policy for concentration in ownership and operation of railroads with federal incorporation into not less than twenty, nor more than thirty-five regional systems.

No guarantee by the government of future railroad income, but limitation of the revenue to "face" dividends based on value of properties fixed by the interstate commerce commission.

The bill provides that existing railroad payment contracts with the government shall be continued not longer than four months.

The keynote of the bill, Chairman Cummins stated in an explanation, is the plan for establishment of twenty to thirty-five regional rail systems.

The new method for settling labor disputes is in a proposed committee on wages and working conditions. Senator Cummins said, adding: "Each organized craft of railroad employees" to use one-half of excess earnings of companies, above their "face" dividends for the benefit of employees.

Food Storage Law Violation Costs $2300

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS. LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

MILWAUKEE, Sept. 2.—The Cudahy Packing Company was fined $2300 here today upon conviction of violating the law pertaining to the storage of food. Judge Pace imposed a fine of $100 on each of 23 counts.

Estate Attorney Zahel said the company had stored 300,000 pounds of meat for over a year without notifying the dairy and food commission. The defense was that there was no market for the meat.

Big Fleet, Viewed by Million Persons, Now Anchored in Bay

With the Oregon in position No. 1, which places that veteran vessel nearest of all to the ferry building, the Pacific Fleet, anchored yesterday by close to a million persons at a parade through the bay by anchorages today. It was the exposure of every eye that could and place from which to view it and the object of every person who, by hook or crook, could manage to get on board one of its units.

And already the bells from on board in hundreds and in droves, the particular eyes and delight of the cities about the bay. Though not until tomorrow are they due to be Oakland's guests, they were already here in numbers today when shore leave began in earnest. For over here, as in San Francisco, were friends and often relatives; and if there were neither, there was at least prospect of entertainment.

PLEET MONSTER RIDE AT ANCHOR

The vessels lay today as they came to anchor at the conclusion of yesterday's stupendous parade. So close to the Oregon was the New Mexico, Admiral Hugh Rodman's flagship, while nearest about him were the other members of the fleet, the Mississippi and Idaho, and the slightly smaller dreadnaughts, Arkansas, Wyoming, New York and Texas. Further astern were the pre-dreadnaughts, cruisers and some of the destroyers. Others of the destroyers were tied up at the docks from the ferry building north and still others were at California City.

In this order they entered the bay with one exception, and why that exception seems not yet clearly to appear. The seven dreadnaughts, in the ponderous majesty of their enormous bulk and apparently potent equipment, were to have led the parade. The New Mexico, Mississippi, Texas and others came along bravely enough in their place, but suddenly into the line came two or three of the smaller battleships,

WOMEN DEMAND GOVERNOR CALL EXTRA SESSION

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 2.—Leading women war workers of California marched in on Governor Stephens today at his hotel and demanded that he call a special session of the legislature to ratify the woman suffrage amendment.

"As God is my judge," the governor said, "I have your interest at heart."

"How about the special session?" came the chorus.

The governor renewed his pledge to call a session when twenty-one other states have ratified the amendment.

Mrs. Abbey Scott Baker declared the women, then, "must begin using pressure that will bring action."

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—President Wilson tomorrow will send out invitations for the proposed conference between labor, capital and agriculture for some time in October. It was learned today at the White House.

ARMY, NAVY VIE IN HOMAGE PAID TO WAR WOMEN

California honored its women war workers today with one of the most significant parades which ever wound its way along Market street, lined for its magnificent pageants.

Thousands of veterans of the war, which the United States has fought in the cause of freedom joined with the dignitaries of nation, state, county and the cities of the west, with naval and military authorities in offering to the womenhood of America homage for the valiant part she has played in the struggles to make safe for democracy this bleeding world.

Plaza waved above the heads of the marching ranks of battle-scarred fighters, of men who had stayed at home to perform their part here, of old men who fought through the rebellion and young men who had been no farther away than the Mexican border, all of whom realized that the mission which women fulfilled was no easy one in peace time or in war. Garlands swayed over the coats which typified the many activities which women carried on while she sent her sons, her brother, her husband, her father to the front lines to perform that which she could not. Band music and huzzas of the multitudes went up in a

COMMANDER OF AERO SQUADRON SHOT WHILE FLYING NEAR BORDER

Captain McNab of U. S. Army Fired On by Carranza Soldiers and Wounded in Head; Makes Landing MECHANICIAN ESCAPES WITHOUT INJURY

LAREDO, Texas, Sept. 2.—Captain David McNab, commander of the Eighth United States Aero Squadron, was shot in the head and seriously wounded early today when a band of Mexican soldiers fired more than one hundred shots at an army aeroplane in which he and Lieutenant Johnson, his mechanic, were scouting in the vicinity of San Isabel creek, sixteen miles northwest of Laredo.

According to a report made at army headquarters, Captain McNab and Lieutenant Johnson were flying at a low altitude on scout duty when a band of twenty-five Mexicans on the Mexican side of the border opened fire on them.

Captain McNab headed his machine upward in an effort to escape the fusillade of shots, but was struck back of the ear by one of the bullets before he could guide his plane out of range.

WOUNDED OFFICER MAKES SAFE LANDING.

Although bleeding profusely, Captain McNab managed to make a safe landing near the Leyendecker-Mullaly farm. After rendering first aid, Lieutenant Johnson reported the attack to the military commander at Fort McIntosh, who ordered an army officer to the Mullaly farm via airplane.

Reports have been current for the past week or so of attacks on American aviators by Mexicans who fired from the Mexican side of the border, but until today the American flyers have escaped injury.

A complete report on the attack today has been forwarded to the authorities at Washington.

EAGLE PASS, Texas, Sept. 2.—Six airplanes of the Nineteenth air squadron arrived here early today "for duty along the Rio Grande."

PLANE SEARCHED DURING SEARCH.

LEASD WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

CALEXICO, Cal., Sept. 2.—Lieutenant William Randolph and Private Luis Delorquez returned here today from San Felipe, in Lower California, where they experienced a wreck of army plane 374, which they were using in a search for lost aviators Connolly and Waterhouse. Lieutenant Randolph said he was forced to make landing Wednesday that damaged his plane so badly he was unable to continue his flight. He left today for Lockwell Field, while Private Delorquez returned to San Felipe to salvage the wrecked plane.

The aviators brought no news of the other aviators for whom they were searching.

DANIELS WILL VISIT PROPOSED NAVAL BASE AT ALAMEDA TOMORROW

Secretary and Experts Will Make a Minute Investigation: Millions to Be Spent on Bay Site Selected

Secretary of the Navy Josephus Daniels will make his first formal inspection of the Alameda naval base site tomorrow morning. He will see it from the bay side, see it from the land side and be told about it from every other side by local committees in charge of his reception. In the afternoon he will also have a glance at the Richmond harbor works.

Secretary Daniels will take the naval yacht Vergana at San Francisco, cruise along the naval base site, visit it from the land, visit Alameda, Oakland, Berkeley and Richmond in turn and come back to Oakland for the Chamber of Commerce banquet in the evening. He will also have luncheon here at noon.

Accompanying the secretary will be Rear Admiral C. W. Parks, chief of the bureau of yards and docks, and Rear Admiral J. S. McKean, assistant chief of naval operations, as well as Admiral Hugh Rodman, commander of the Pacific fleet. Other leading naval men who are expected to be members of the party are Rear Admiral J. L. Jayne, commander of the twelfth naval district and senior officer of this port; Rear Admiral Nathan Twining, chief of staff to Admiral Rodman; Vice-Admiral Williams, ranking next to Rodman in the Pacific fleet; Rear Admiral Robert Coontz, Rear Admiral William Shoemaker and Commanders Hilton and Foote.

LEAVES DOCK AT 9 A. M.

The Vergana will leave the naval training station wharf, pier 14, at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning. Secretary Daniels and party will be greeted at the pier by a civic delegation from the Eastbay cities, Buys and yachts will indicate the boundaries of the new base site to the secretary as the Vergana cruises and run and members of the committee will explain details of it. Landing at Alameda a view will be had from the land side. At Neptune Beach, Alameda, the secretary will make a brief talk at 10:45 o'clock, after which the party will be taken in machines through Alameda to the shipyards, and finally to the Hotel Oakland. The afternoon program includes a drive to Berkeley, an address at the Greek Theater, a visit to Richmond and a return to the Hotel Oakland. Secretary Daniels and Admiral Rodman are both to speak.

Tomorrow's inspection is a portion of a program which Secretary Daniels has outlined for himself previous to making his recommendation to Congress for a naval outlay for this coast. He has already indicated that the coast may prepare for an unprecedented program of naval development as a result of the organization of the Pacific Fleet here.

By September 24 the secretary will give to Congress his recommendation for the first work to be done. It is, apparently, quite certain this report will cover all or part of each of the following items:

POINTS IN REPORT:

Recommendations as to the establishment of the new naval base and navy yard on this bay.

Establishment of a naval training station at San Diego.

Construction of a new naval hospital at Balboa Park, San Diego.

Probable continuance of the San Pedro submarine base established during the war.

Extensive addition to the Pearl Harbor, including additions to the present ship facilities and hospitals.

Establishment of an aviation station and submarine base on the Columbia river, probably in the vicinity of Astoria.

Extensive improvements to naval facilities on Puget Sound, particularly at Bremerton.

WILL REQUIRE MILLIONS.

The work will require appropriations of many millions of dollars before completed. The policy of the navy department will be to make the first work that immediately required for the handling of the naval force to comprise the Pacific Fleet. Later, attention is to be paid to the smaller projects, such as proposed establishment of the submarine and aviation bases on the secondary harbors of the coast.

All of this work will be based largely on the report of the Hearn board, which investigated and reported on in detail the naval needs of the Pacific coast just prior to the war, recommending a naval base at Alameda and other improvements.

Consistent with the data which this report contains will be the lessons gained from the war and the results of detailed personal study of certain specific phases of the Pacific coast naval situation.

Of the program now taking shape the largest single item is the naval base at Alameda, which will be selected by the department from the personal investigation being made here now by Secretary Daniels and his staff.

The same plan of personal investigation will be followed on Puget Sound and the Columbia river.

DANIELS WON'T DISCUSS NAVAL BASE PROJECT

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 2.—This city made its bid for the new naval base at Hunter's Point this morning when Secretary Daniels, accompanied by Admiral Rodman and an imposing staff of naval experts, inspected the plans lined behind the new dry dock of the Bethlehem Shipbuilding corporation located on the point.

Admiral Rodman, accompanied by Rear Admiral C. W. Parks, chief of the bureau of yards and docks, and Rear Admiral J. S. McKean, assistant chief of naval operations, and the local committee, proceeded to the secretary to the point, where a huge map of the proposed base had been set up under the direction of City Engineer M. M. O'Shaughnessy. This preliminary survey was presented with interest upon Admiral Rodman's statement, made after a brief inspection, "Whatever we do here we want to be assured of plenty of room."

Secretary Daniels then arrived and talked briefly with Admiral Rodman, Parks and McKean and while seemingly interested, failed to be impressed with the possibilities of the Hunter's Point site as the committee, headed by Mayor Joseph and Fred Beckman, thought he should have been.

Asked for a statement, the naval experts all made a stereotyped reply of "I can say nothing. My impression is embodied in an official report to the Secretary of the Navy."

Referring to the proposed site in San Francisco Bay, Secretary Daniels said: "The Atlantic yards are all cramped. The base we build here must have plenty of room and whatever we do out here will be with the future in mind in that respect."

This was echoed by Admiral Rodman, who said: "This base must be capable of handling the vessels at anchor. The Atlantic yards are all cramped. If necessary, at one time, a war base differs from a peacetime base in that it must not only be behind the lines, where enemies felt cannot get to it, but must be capable of receiving and handling war vessels. The Atlantic yards are all cramped. If necessary, at one time, a war base differs from a peacetime base in that it must not only be behind the lines, where enemies felt cannot get to it, but must be capable of receiving and handling war vessels."

A criticism of the new Bethlehem drydock was made by Admiral Rodman, who inspected his thousand feet of length, which held a six-masted tanker and the 19,000-ton shipyard board steamer, Richmond, and went the length of the dock with Mayor Joseph and J. J. Cannon while the experts went over the point.

POINTS OUT MISTAKE.

STEEL IN GIANT WARSHIP WOULD COVER BIG CITY

Crowds that boarded the big ships today were likely to run across facts like those Ensign Brown, publicity officer of the Mississippi, distributed.

The armor plate of a dreadnaught, he pointed out, if rolled to the thickness of a half-inch, would cover all of San Francisco. The armor of some places is 13 inches thick.

The ships are cities in themselves with a population of 1,000 men. A million gallons of fuel oil is taken on board at one filling and with her own plant the Mississippi manufactures 25,000 gallons of water a day.

Ships of this type are capable of a speed of over 21 knots an hour and are controlled from five different points either by electricity, steam or hand, as the occasion may require.

CITY AND COUNTY TAX TOTALS $4.88

The total city and county tax rate in Oakland for the coming year, as decided by the Board of Supervisors today, will be $4.88. Of this $2 per cent is to be for school purposes.

The total county tax rate in Oakland is $2.44, as the result of today's action by the board. Of the county rate $1.52 is for school purposes, considering city appropriations as well as the county allowance.

The county rate in Alameda is $2.24, of which $1.32 is for school purposes. The rate in Berkeley is $1.75, of which $1.33 is for school purposes. The county generally outside will pay $1.85, made up of the following items: Salary fund, $1; general fund, .75; common schools, .45; high schools, .21; advertising fund, 1995; exposition fund, .02; fire protection fund, .01; bond interest, .015.

Outside of revenue for school purposes, the cost of administering the county government, including hospitals and charities, is only ninety-two cents on the hundred dollars.

The Berkeley and Alameda rates given here will be in addition to the city rates and the county rate, which the city rate alone would be $1.13, making the total $2.28 for Berkeley and $3.41 for Alameda.

Two deaths in the crowd, nine hurt in accidents—that was the casualty toll when the fleet came in. Mrs. Isabelle Jeffress, 519 Castro street, San Francisco, dropped dead from heart disease as she was on her way to the Mission street wharf to see the fleet drop anchor.

William Johnston, age 80, a retired merchant of Pasadena, rose in his automobile to catch a glimpse of the armada and fell to the street. He died a few minutes later at Port Miley hospital.

Three aviators were hurt, two airplanes plugging one to the earth and one into the bay.

Vernon Hodgkins, a sailor on the Renshaw, broke his arm when handling the ship. John Heinzer, a schoolboy living at Glen Park, was leaning from the platform of a crowded San Francisco car when another car struck him. He was treated for a bad scalp wound at the Central Emergency hospital.

Program Completed
For Wilson in North

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 2.—A tentative program for President Wilson's visit here, which was telegraphed to the White House for approval, included a review of the Pacific Fleet.

Tonight's Fleet Fete Program

9:30 p. m.—Victory ball at the Civic auditorium in honor of War Women's Day. Secretary Daniels and Mrs. Daniels will lead the grand march. All fleet officers will be the guests of honor.

'HUMAN FLY' IS DENIED PERMIT

Because of inadequate police manpower, which Chief of Police J. F. Lynch held would make it practically impossible to handle big street crowds tomorrow, permission was refused Captain Williams, "The Human Fly," to climb the city hall tomorrow. Williams had planned an exhibition for the afternoon. The council's action puts a stop to the plan.

"The man asked permission to climb several buildings, one after the other, and we had men out Saturday for a supposed climb that he did not make, when he said the walls of the First Savings Bank were too slippery," said Chief Lynch. "Now he comes in with this request. I have not the necessary men. I have a bad corner to handle traffic anyhow, and it will be impossible for the police to control the situation."

On the chief's recommendation the permit was denied.

Squadron to Visit Columbia, Portland

The dreadnaught Arkansas, the battleships Vermont and North Carolina, the scout cruiser Birmingham and six destroyers will visit Columbia River ports and Portland, Oregon, from September 6 to 10. Secretary of the Navy Daniels announced today. It is possible another large cruiser will also be designated to make the trip.

SEC. DANIELS' SON GETS 'LOST' ON GOAT ISLAND

"Lost" on Goat Island, Jonathan Daniels, son of Secretary of the Navy Josephus Daniels, became separated from the official party yesterday following the luncheon tendered the head of the navy department by Admiral Joseph Lee Jayne, and finally regained the party in San Francisco.

Young Daniels was wandering about the island, while in the meantime his father and the official party took a boat to San Francisco. A lieutenant found him, rushed him to a wharf on the other side of the island, impressed on his mind the fact that he was across the bay at night to catch his father's party.

Young Daniels served as a sailor during the war, having been only recently discharged from service.

GIRLS WILL SING AT LAKE FIESTA

Victory chorus girls of the division of War Camp Community service, led by Roy J. McCarthy, Oakland's new song leader, will sing in the main amphitheater that will be held tomorrow night in honor of the fleet. Dressed in their uniforms, the girls, occupying the new municipal launch Peralta, will traverse the lake singing while the Golden State Ladies' Band will play on board the launch.

In the afternoon regatta new features are announced by the committee in charge, tiling in comes, jumping from the beams and surfboard racing. The regatta will be held on the bay, which will be the scene of the city's new steel boats.

The girls winners of 1918 school regatta will have a race to be followed by another composed of twelve-men crews.

RETIRED ADMIRALS AT NAVAL REVIEW

Men who helped to build the great American navy and then retired came back to see the mighty Pacific fleet yesterday as it sailed through the Golden Gate.

Among those were two rear admirals, George C. Keiser and Richardson George. Admiral Keiser came from Los Angeles and Admiral George from his country home in Santa Barbara. In the lobby of the big hotels they renewed acquaintance with many other naval officers.

Scenes of color seldom passed. Although throughout the war uniforms of both army and navy made those same ladies glitter with memory faded before the dazzle of gold braid that is there to stay, mingled with the bright summer gowns of the women visitors.

SAILORS DROWN ON TRIP FROM MONTEREY BAY

Two sailors aboard the Texas were drowned on the trip from Santa Cruz to the bay, according to the vessel's executive officers. One was believed to be a case of suicide.

G. S. Powers, seaman, on storeroom duty, was seen to leave the deck just as the vessel made anchorage in Bolinas Bay Sunday night. A search was made but no trace found of his body. His associates say that he had been brooding and reading the Bible for several days, and that the case is one of suicide.

The first man drowned lost his life off Santa Cruz. He was a sailor named Lancaster. Funeral services were read for him aboard the vessel.

MRS. DANIELS IS SPONSOR AT LAUNCHING

"Oh, the Secret-a-ary, Secretary, is a very busy man," said a nonchalant "gals" as he watched the crowd milling about Josephus Daniels in San Francisco yesterday.

Secretary Daniels was just as busy today. Every hour was crowded. Although receptions kept him up late last evening, he arose early. At 8 o'clock he left the Palace hotel with Admiral Rodman, in a motor car with the rest of the official party to inspect the Hunter's Point proposed naval base site.

EXPERTS IN PARTY.

Naval experts accompanying him were Captain W. A. Moffett of the Massachusetts, Captain Frank Taylor, Captain of the Birmingham, Captain W. K. Huddle of the Vestal, Captain E. S. Kellogg of the Vermont, Admiral J. G. Walker, John C. Kortick and Richard J. Welch. San Francisco superiors, also, were of the party. Joseph L. Tyson, general manager of the Union Iron Works, and other prominent men of industry went along.

A visit to the Union plant of the Bethlehem Shipbuilding Corporation followed the proposed naval base inspection. Mrs. Daniels was among the guests at the launching of the destroyer, which left the ways at 11 o'clock.

WILL TALK TO WOUNDED.

He will visit Letterman General Hospital at 2 o'clock to address the wounded doughboys in the lobby of the Red Cross hostess house.

The secretarial day will close at the Victory ball in the San Francisco Civic Center this evening. Secretary and Mrs. Daniels will lead the grand march.

Thousands of Gobs Come to This Side

Many men of the Pacific fleet are anticipating the welcome to be extended them tomorrow in the Eastbay district and come across the bay today and last night. Two thousand or more helped out in the Labor Day festivities in Flora Park yesterday and last night and tonight there will be a free dance for the sailors who go to that place of amusement. There will be another free dance in the park Thursday night, the management realizing that all of the men will be unable to get away from the vessels tomorrow.

RECRUITS ARE REVIEWED BY SEC. DANIELS

"Recruits" had been looking forward to the event for weeks. The never forget Secretary of the Navy Josephus Daniels. If they had any inclination that way, "Snap out of it!" said the "gold braid," and straightway they remembered again that the secretary was coming.

The result of all this preparation was seen in the success of the review yesterday when the secretary reviewed the navy's newest recruits at Yerba Buena Island. He spoke to the youngsters, something about the pride and ideals of the navy and the goals to which they might gain.

INVEST IN NEW CLOTHES

CHERRY CHAT.

Mr. Man, good clothes are the most profitable investment you can make. Good clothes pay dividends in business success and social popularity.

No man can really do justice to himself unless his clothes do justice to his character and station.

Invest in some new clothes on the Cherry Chat plan—few dollars down and a few dollars monthly.

Values are worth considering, and the styles are always up to the minute.

We invite your inspection of the Jersey new fall fashions which are arriving daily.

FLEET PLANES IN DAILY EXHIBITIONS

Arranged, carried as part of the equipment of the big warships now in the bay, will be seen in exhibition flights showing the skill of the navy's aviators. Plans were made for flights commencing today, and to be given Thursday and Saturday, in which the latest evolution in naval fighting are to be seen.

Planes leave their ship from a large platform over the guns, and the landings will be made at the Oakland Police today.

TWO CHILDREN ATTACKED BY VICIOUS DOGS

Two persons were attacked and bitten by vicious dogs and the animals are being held for signs of rabies. It was reported to the Oakland Police today.

At 2135 Dolmar street yesterday a dog jumped at Eugenia, daughter of Mrs. Sorenson, 2523 Lincoln avenue and inflicted bites upon her left leg. The child was placed under the care of a physician and the dog was ordered penned up for pound inspection.

Reg. Hines, new boy, 4429 Hopkins street, was treated last night by Dr. Leslie Herrick, of Fruitvale for bites he received when a dog belonging to John Sabbeno attacked him in his home. Sabbeno's papers at the Sabbeno home.

GAY CARNIVAL SPIRIT SWEEPS OAKLAND ON EVE OF FLEET FIESTA

Five Thousand Men of Sea Expected To Be Guests of the Eastbay Cities Tomorrow: Program of Variety

Oakland is in carnival mood. The men of the Pacific Fleet—at least as many of them as choose, which it is estimated will be about 5000—will be the city's guests of honor tomorrow. From the time the first contingent of 500 arrive, which will be somewhere around 8:30 o'clock in the morning, until long past midnight, mirth will reign supreme. Oakland is bearing a magnificent part in the Eastbay City Day, which is the general program of Fleet Week was set aside for this city, Berkeley and Alameda.

Lake Merritt, about which the great out-of-door fest will settle, has been decked with flags and pennants. Jeweled lights have been set in place to make the frame for the brilliant water pagant and illuminated parade, which will be the inaugural event to the grand march at the naval ball, to be led by Secretary of the Navy Josephus Daniels. A uniform is the only passport to the favor of the hostesses and the flock of girls who will await their gallant dance partners. Flags have been hung above the streets and flutter from the heights of the business buildings. As night settles down, lights will stream out to lend emphasis to the welcome which Oakland gives the men of the sea. Hillsides will glow with the hospitable lights set in the windows of thousands of homes where families offer silent courtesy to the jockies who will henceforth give security to the long coast line.

PROGRAM IS VARIOUS

It is "good" comes to Oakland tomorrow and falls to have a good time, it will be most certainly the fault of that particular "good". In his own mind, he can dance to his heart's content and with the prettiest girls in California at that. Can he not be happy away from the water there is plenty to do about the shores of the lake. Does he lean toward the manly arts, he may even in that be satisfied. Weary from the overfeting which has been his since the great fleet touched the coast, green places and trees to rest in and soft couches in club-rooms will be waiting. And there will be plenty of good things to eat for all, wherever they may be, whether at Lake Merritt, More Park, the Defenders' Club or the Knights of Columbus hall. No sailor or marine will go away from Oakland with the inner man longing for more cake or coffee or cream.

Oakland is through with visitors who have come to share in the fun of the Eastbay City Day. Every train and every road is pouring scores into the city. Towns of the eastern end of the county are declaring holiday and whole families are making their way toward the all-day festival.

THEATER DOORS OPEN

Theaters will swing wide their doors to the visitors during the morning and afternoon with special programs to be offered along with the week's regular bills. The men of the sea will have their choice between the T. & D. Ye Liberty, the Civic Auditorium, Palace, Klondike, American, Broadway, Franklin, Panjagos, Columbia and Regent. "Open houses" will be maintained by the Young Men's Christian Association, the Knights of the Chain, the Defenders' Club, Oakland chapter, American Red Cross, first aid hospital, seven in number, have been located about the lake at the Municipal Auditorium, the Hunt, Fourth and Broadway, and Idora Park, to take care of any emergency which may arise in the midst of the joy-making. Drinking water will be offered the public and for those who have need cups of hot toilet will be served. Great stores of good things have been carried into the headquarters of the Knights of Columbus, where all day substantial repasts will be furnished the cars by Daughters of Israel and members of the Young Ladies Institute.

DEFENDERS' CLUB CENTER

The Defenders' Club, at Thirteenth and Harrison streets, will become a natural center to the thousands of visitors who have acquired the habit of going to the War Camp Community Service for mirth and comfort. The great building will be thrown open all day, dancing, music, refreshments free to all comers. Two hundred society women will assist Miss Christie and Misses The Chase House on Lake Merritt will offer dancing to the men, the all-day party to be chaperoned by the executives of the Girls' Division, War Camp Community Service. The club rooms at 1414 San Pablo avenue will be maintained for Eastbay City Day more especially as a headquarters for the women who have come to Oakland to meet the brothers, sons and husbands who have arrived with the fleet. Rest rooms and accommodations have been planned particularly for their comfort. The Young Women's Christian Association will offer hospitality tomorrow night at a feature party.

Notes of the sixty-piece jazz band floating out over the lake at noon will be the signal that Oakland's formal program for the carnival of mirth has begun. Right then Jackie has his choice of a beautiful partner in the dance or a box lunch. Oak street has been closed for two blocks in front of the boat house, and from 12 noon until 8 at night the men of the sea and the girls of the city will make merry. From 12 noon to 7:30 p. m. near by Mrs. Georgia Hodgeman and Mrs. D. C. Gienna with their corps of volunteer assistants will tickle the palate of the tars with real home-made goodies cunningly done up in the form of box lunches. Every man may eat his fill if it be one box or six.

The fate will be in full swing by 1:30 p. m. when the regatta on Lake Merritt will begin with its long list of events and air features. Motor boat, canoe and crew races carried out under the direction of the recreation department of Oakland, will while away the hours to those inclined toward water sports.

SPANISH BAMBECUE

But Lake Merritt will be by no means the only center of hospitality. At Idora an old-time Spanish bambecue will be held. The Alameda County Dutchers' Association the particular hosts who have contributed hundreds of pounds of their best to the event, typically Californian. The "Mermaid Lunch," at which good things to eat will be distributed by a heavy of pretty girls, will draw scores of sailor men. Championship regatta between sailors of the fleet and sailors from Yerba Buena Training Station and Mare Island will make Idora the most popular resort for fight fans whether at the navy or in civilian life. More than 5000 will be accommodated in the open-air stadium.

Interest in the nerve of a man will assemble the blue-coated visitors about the foot of the city hall to see Jack Williams, the "human fly," repeat his feat of scaling the top of the high building and up the flag staff beginning at 12:15 p. m. Another special feature which the fleet committee has incorporated in its plans for Eastbay City Day is the balloon ascension announced for 3 p. m. when A. Van Tassel, veteran aviator, with A. Vander Schueren Jr. as pilot, will start on a cross-country flight.

The night regatta on Lake Merritt and the naval ball in the Municipal Auditorium will bring the strenuous day of hospitality and fun to a close. Scores of small craft, brilliant with color and glowing with lanterns and cunningly placed lights will form the illuminated parade which will have its setting within the bright ring of incandescents which have been placed about the entire circle of the shore. Oakland is to have once again a fireworks display. An hour and a half beginning at 8:30 p. m., has been designated for the pyrotechnic display and regatta.

Secretary of the Navy Daniels and Mrs. Daniels will lead the grand march at the great ball which will wind up Oakland's fleet celebration. Invitations have been extended to 5000 girls to participate in the brilliant function and once again dance with the service lads. Mrs. John Perkins is chairman of the general committee which has arranged the brilliant function.

Foe Diver With War Record Is On Coast

SAN PEDRO, Sept. 2.—The U.S.S. A-5, a foe diver, sinker of sixteen ships, is today in the harbor here after successfully completing a trip from the east coast.

The boat is in command of an American crew of four officers and 27 men. It is en route to San Francisco, where it will be dissected by naval officers there in an effort to learn German secrets in submarine construction.

The under sea craft arrived here last night.

SOLDIERS, SAILORS HONOR WOMEN

great and ever greater sympathy lifted in honor of the women who have served.

SOLID WALL OF MEN AND WOMEN LINE MARCH

Pages through the streets covered the hill slopes and watched the long line of drakehaughts and engines of war tread their stately way through the Golden Gate, this afternoon crowded the line of march, presenting a solid wall of humanity on either side of the heroic line. The honors which were offered the men of the box restrooms today were returned into homage to the women who had achieved through sacrifice and sometimes no less heroic death than the soldier on the battlefield. The day was ushered in with dancing. A score of army trucks bore 600 girls of the Victory chorus along the line of march, where popular songs of the world war and wars that are past were sung from street corners.

A salute of 19 guns fired from the ferry building and at 2:30 this afternoon, the War Women's Day parade was on its way. Thirty-nine divisions, carrying with it numberless bands from the posts about the bay, the fleet, the shipyards, the schools and private organizations, made up the great length of the marching forces, with more than 12,000 men and women in line.

GIGANTIC CARAVAN

Automobiles carrying Secretary of the Navy Daniels, Governor William D. Stephens, Admiral Hugh Rodman, Lieutenant General J. Hunter Liggett, Rear Admiral James Governor Emmet D. Doyle of Nevada, Mayor James Rolph and as many more distinguished citizens of public and civilian led the way to the reviewing stand at the Civic Center amid wild cheers of the populace. Their escort was a detachment of mounted San Francisco police, the Municipal Band of forty pieces, Dirigo's general Colonel Thierwall, artillery and staff. There followed the board of supervisors and city officials, executive fleet committee and active committees including army and navy participation committees in a lengthy stream of decorated machines.

Troops from the Western Department, U. S. A., under command of General J. E. McDonald; aviation command; recruiting service, Major H. H. Dabney, commanding; reserve officers' training corps, made a last showing for the army. The Twelfth Naval District was represented in the second division. The escort was followed by a beautiful float, "Victims," designed in honor of the missing fleet men. A fleet detachment of 5000 "gobs" under the command of Rear Admiral R. R. Coontz, won a continuous ovation, as it proceeded through the streets of San Francisco. The recruiting service and Naval Reserve were fully represented.

WORKERS' FLOATS

Shipyards and munition workers contributed floats symbolic of the part played by women during the war. United States Shipping Board Recruiting Service and the Infantry Battalion National Guard sent full quotas to the line.

Veterans of the Civil War, the Spanish American War, the foreign wars, preceded the ex-service army officers and men—veterans of the world war. Among the organizations represented were the 49th Artillery, 23d Coast Artillery, 21st Heavy Artillery, 46th Field Artillery, Army Artillery Park, San Francisco Anti-Aircraft, 46th Artillery, 147th Field Artillery, 263d Infantry, 247th Artillery, units of the 1st Division, 1st Supply Train, British-American war veterans, led by Highlander Pipers Band, wives and mothers at home, entertainment and recreation, reconvalescents, signal girls and business girls, land army, caucian in Europe, war finance, Letterman Hospital, knitting and sewing work, were represented in elaborate floats which formed a spectacular part of the parade.

The California Grays and their veterans were hailed with acclaim. The service men from the Knights of Columbus were offered the cheers of the people. Moose War Veterans were escorted by their drum corps and drill team. The Nationals had an important place in line. Chinese veterans made a dashing appearance.

BUTTERFLIES AND POPPIES RAIN ON CROWD
As the great line swung under the golden court at Market and First streets, the ribbons were pulled which sent fluttering down on the multitude thousands of butterflies and poppies which had been concealed a week ago in its great bell. Daylight fireworks and balloons were sent upward from all parts of the city.

East Bay cities sent an entire division to the long line of march. Oakland, Berkeley, Alameda, San Leandro, Hayward, Richmond, Crockett and Martinez, uniting in sending several thousand veterans from Alameda and Contra Costa counties to pay tribute to the work of women in the war. Colonel Ralph J. Faneuf acted as grand marshal for the East Bay Division. Oakland led the unit with more than 500 men accompanied by the band from the Moore Shipyard. Lieutenant Colonel David B. Barrows was in command of the Berkeley organization made up of 200 veterans and fish-American war crossed the bay University of California students, for participation in the parade. The Behrman Shipbuilding Company. The Victory Ball in the Civic Auditorium escorted the Alameda division in honor of Secretary Daniels, unit of 250. Major L. Wierda, commander, Admiral Hugh Rodman and the band of 200. Soldiers, sailors, marines, bringing to a brilliant close War Women veterans of foreign wars and Spanish 1918.

HUGE CROWDS PACK FERRIES, BREAK RECORD

Ferryboats between this side of the bay and San Francisco have ceased to ride on an even keel. No boat crossed this morning, from the earliest commuter travel to the afternoon shopping hours, but with a decided list to port or starboard as they were west or eastbound. This because interest in the Pacific fleet, now riding safely at anchor to the south of the ferry course, is no whit less a center of interest than when it steamed proudly through the fairway yesterday noon, and ferry passengers crowd the rails at the side where the fleet lies.

Every record that ever existed or was postulated as possible for ferry traffic was, in fact, broken yesterday. The Southern Pacific ferries, according to the estimates today of the ferry traffic superintendent, totaled 126,000 passengers carried during the day. At the foot of Broadway 1522 automobiles were taken on board or delivered. Exact Key Route figures were not available this morning, but they were computed to be almost as large.

RUSK CONTINUES
Moreover, these same ferryboats carried thousands more during today than on usual days, though probably thousands fewer than yesterday, when a large portion of Eastbay citizens went to join in the fleet's welcome. This is for two reasons, one that the gobs were coming ashore in droves from each of the half hundred warships and wanted to be welcomed as they hopped upon the docks; the other, that visitors were permitted about the ships today and that was a privilege too precious to be long foregone.

In similar manner did Eastbay residents take part in the reception to the fleet yesterday. A number of residents of Oakland and neighboring cities found place on the Oregon, the reviewing ship. Included in this number were Mayor John L. Davis, President H. C. Capwell of the Chamber of Commerce, Postmaster Joseph W. Roshough, Commander William J. Baccus, Joseph B. Knowland and others.

TRAINS DOUBLED
Because of the holiday the heights of Eastbay residents to the other side of the bay continued up to the latest possible hours last evening. Well into this morning, both the Southern Pacific and Key Route lines were running twenty minute ferries. On several of the routes, including the Eighteenth street line of the Southern Pacific, trains were doubled during most of the day. A gangway in the rear coach of these trains was erected to prevent congestion on the steps, so dense was the crowd. Although the freight ferry carried as many automobiles, literally, as the law allowed, it was able to make but slight impression upon the droves of machines that congregated at the foot of Broadway. Scores of machines, finding it impossible to cross within reasonable time, were parked about the lower part of the city while their owners crossed the bay without them.

U. C. Student Seized After Auto Smash

BERKELEY, Sept. 2. (Union E. Anderson, a University of California student, residing in Richmond, is the first arrested under the new automobile ordinance prohibiting speedsters and regulating road rules. Anderson was taken into custody on a complaint of Mrs. Frances Gunning, 1440 Kains avenue, following a crash at Bonar and University avenues.

The collision, according to Mrs. Gunning, was a result of Anderson's carelessness. The student demanded a jury trial and his case was set for September 11. The machine, although damaged considerably, was able to carry their drivers to their destinations. With the exception of a bad shaking up neither driver suffered injury.

LEADERS IN THE ACTIVITIES OF THE NEW WESTERN ARMADA DURING ITS RECEPTION HERE

Here are the men and women who were prominent in the official review of the Pacific fleet. Above is a group of those who watched from the decks of the Oregon as the great squadron steamed into the bay. Among those pictured are SECRETARY OF THE NAVY AND MRS. JOSEPHUS DANIELS, GOVERNOR WILLIAM D. STEPHENS and MISS STEPHENS, MAYOR and MRS. JAMES ROLPH JR., REAR-ADMIRAL and MRS. J. L. JAYNE, REAR-ADMIRAL McKEAN, GENERAL HUNTER LIGGETT, CAPT. formance of its functions, perfect equality for all nations and for all races and the government of Mexico has proclaimed as the guiding principle of its international policy that all States ought to have the same rights and the same obligations, so that no individual within a State should have the power to invoke privileged protection on any reason of being a foreigner, or for any other cause.

Regarding the Monroe doctrine, the message said Mexico did not recognize and will not recognize it, "inasmuch as it established without the volition of all the peoples of America a criterion and a solution in which Mexico was not consulted." The message said that doctrine smacked of sovereignty over Mexico and constituted forcible guardianship over all the nations on the American continent.

Included in the message, which contains an aggregate of 45,000 words, is the following paragraph regarding petroleum legislation: "The revolution has implanted reforms making for the welfare and progress of the Mexican people. The government is endeavoring to respect and consolidate existing rights, but it cannot accept the principle that the liberty of Mexicans to govern according to their own necessities should be limited. Our willingness to conciliate is an effort to conquer difficulties that arise will continue, but our sovereignty will be maintained unharmed."

Petroleum legislation has been given a preferential place on the legislative program.

I Take No Chances With My Baby

WHEN I found I couldn't nurse my baby any longer, I made up my mind to find a food for him that would be safe—that would be sure to bring him health and happiness

John Dagggett, pioneer, former lieutenant governor, and prior to 1937 superintendent of the San Francisco mint, died Saturday night at Black Bear, in Siskiyou county.

During his term as lieutenant governor, to which office he was nominated by the Democratic convention, he lost a close race for a running mate with General George Stoneman, he became conspicuous by his defeat of the Barr bill, a measure to take away from the ruling powers of the railroads. The measure passed the Assembly and was given a tie vote in the Senate. Several times it came up for passage and was defeated by Dagggett's vote.

Dagggett came to California from New York in 1892 and engaged in mining. He later gave up mining, he entered politics, playing a leading part until his retirement in 1934.

Dagggett was appointed superintendent of the San Francisco Mint by President Grover Cleveland in 1893. His appointment was said to be the first time that a manufacturer of the raw metal became a manufacturer of the finished product in the shape of coin.

He was survived by a son, Benjamin Dagggett, and a daughter, Margaret Dagggett, both of whom resided with him at Black Bear. Miss Dagggett is a member of the forestry service of the Northern California division.

I knew raw cow's milk was hard for him to digest because of the tough curds—and I was afraid of the dangers of germs, particularly in hot weather.

And then my doctor told me the safest form of milk—the easiest to digest—the nearest thing to mother's milk—was Nestlé's Milk Food. My baby has thrived and grown in health and happiness ever since.

Nestlé's is pure milk in powder form that is already modified and does not require the further addition of milk. Many mothers who in order to keep the home neat and attractive, the children well fed and dressed, continually overdo.

The experience of motherhood alone causes a severe strain upon the system, from which many women recover slowly, and serious feminine disorders may develop unless great care is taken to prevent them.

To such women Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is invaluable. For

York City, said: "I have never before given out any medical information or advice for publication, as I ordinarily do not believe in it. But in the case of Nuxated Iron I feel I would be remiss in my duty not to mention it. I have taken it myself and given it to my patients with most surprising and satisfactory results. And those who wish quickly to increase their strength, power and endurance will find it a most remarkable and wonderfully effective remedy."

If people would only take Nuxated Iron when they feel weak or run-down, instead of forcing themselves with high-priced drugs, stimulants and medicine beverages, there are probably thousands who might readily build up their red blood corpuscles, increase their vitality, energy and get themselves free of need to ward off the effects of disease germs that are almost continually around us.

It is surprising how many people suffer from iron deficiency and do not know it.

'DIPS' ARE HERE, CHIEF'S WARNING

"Ware the pickpockets."

This is the official warning of the Oakland police to Oakland residents and visitors tomorrow, when the city will be crowded during the welcome to the fleet.

Police Inspectors E. A. Wallman and Tim Flynn are in charge of a special pickpocket detail that will be on the watch day and night for the elusive "dip," but in the meantime the public is warned by the po-

"Dips," says Chief Lynch, "always work two or more; one being the 'stall,' who pushes the victim around in the crowd, distracting his attention while the other goes through his pockets. They are sometimes very skillful; can get to the inside vest pocket in a crowd, unbuttoning a victim's vest.

"Most pickpockets are known from other cities, and we believe some of our pickpockets are at work following the fleet. We may get them on arrival, but in the meantime care is the best protection for one's valuables."

WORKERS APPROVE NEW WAGE SCALE

That the new shipyard agreement has been ratified by union labor was made in a recent referendum on the opinion table of Secretary John Morzenzthal, Alameda and Contra Costa counties' metal trades' council. All ballots, either totals or individual votes, came along in his hands today, and he will forward them at once to the international heads at Tacoma, Washington.

Until the international officials make their count no definite results can be voted, according to Morzenzthal, who said, however, that the agreement met with the approval of a majority of shipyard workers in all crafts.

The document, voted on by the men, represents the terms and working conditions which succeed those of the Macy award. The government document is cancelled automatically October 1, at which time it is thought that the new terms will be in force.

Two Women, Child Reported Missing

MERCIER QUITS PARIS TO PAY AMERICA VISIT

PARIS, Sept. 2.—Cardinal Mercier left here today for New York on the Agamemnon tomorrow.

The cardinal will be accompanied by the Belgian ambassador to the United States, Baron Paul De Carteret de Marchand.

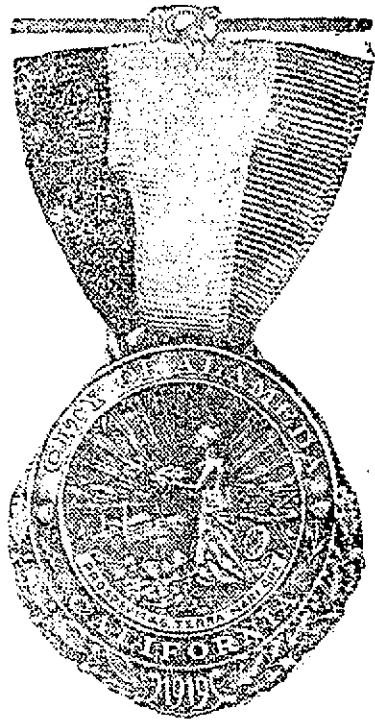

PARIS, Sept. 2 (Havas).—Cardinal Mercier, primate of Belgium, who leaves today for the United States, has been entrusted with a delicate mission in that country by the Holy See, according to the Journal. The newspaper says that the cardinal will lay before President Wilson the Pope's views concerning the League of Nations.

The cardinal left for New York where he will sail for the United States.

Cardinal Mercier told the Associated Press that he was visiting America because having been in contact with the great work of the American people during the war, he wanted to thank them on their own soil.

The cardinal added that the name of the American people recalled to him one of the dramatic incidents of the war, when the German commander, when the German commander intercepted a despatch from the Associated Press to the cardinal, asking him if the Germans were arresting him on account of his public utterances.

Medals and Cups Will Be Awarded Winners of Events

MEDAL AWARDED SAILORS
BY ALAMEDA

Athletic Contests to Be Staged at Alameda for Men of Pacific Fleet

The city of Alameda will award to the sailors of the Pacific fleet winning events to be staged Wednesday, Thursday and Friday afternoons in that city five gold medals, 100 silver medals and many silver cups.

The medals are replicas of the seal of the city of Alameda, suspended from red, white and blue silk ribbon.

Both the medals and the cups before presentation will be engraved with the name of the winner and the ship from which he comes.

Distribution will be directed by Otto Ritter, Alameda athletic director, in collaboration with Fleet Athletic Officer Lieutenant Commander Stewart S. Chapman.

The five gold medals will go to winners of championship events. The two silver cups will be awarded to the victors in baseball, swimming, boxing, wrestling and tug of war.

The silver medals will be bestowed on all sailors taking part in regular athletic events in Alameda preceding the finals.

The fleet baseball team, recruited from several ships in the armada, will hold practice games in Alameda Thursday and Friday afternoons, meeting local teams preparatory to their game with the Presidio nine Saturday in San Francisco, Manager has announced.

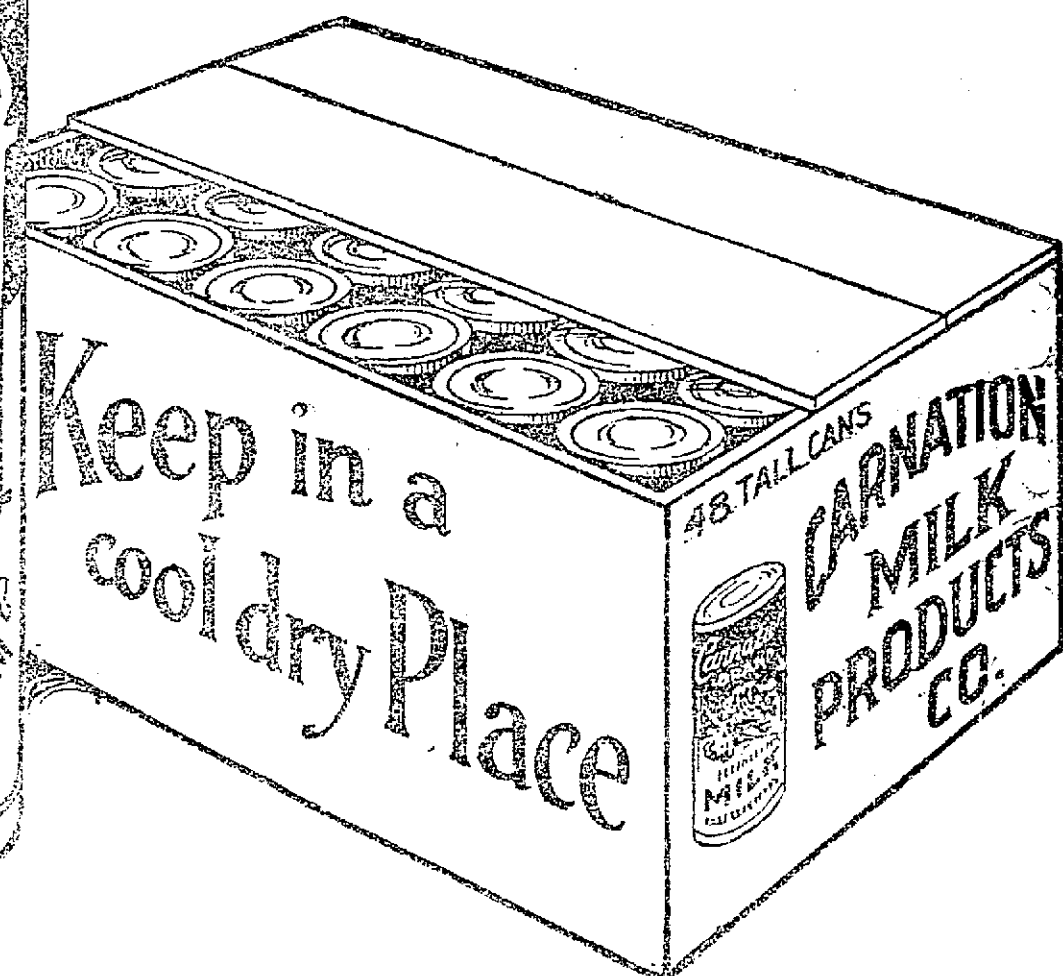

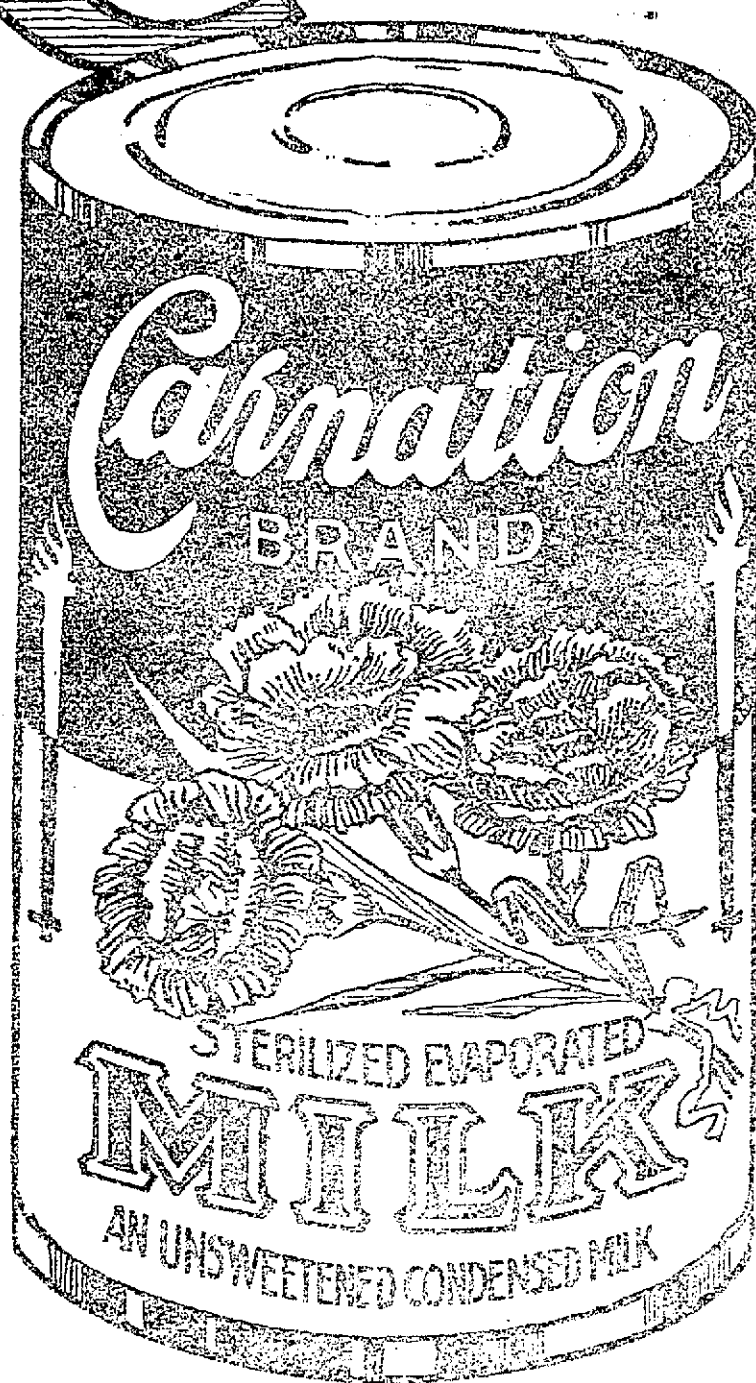

Sergeant Makes Gold Plate for Pershing

WICHITA, Kans., Sept. 2.—Sergeant Alfred W. Hatfield, a Wichita young man, had the unusual experience of making a gold plate for General John J. Pershing.

Not that the general is getting "high toned," and was eating off of gold plate, instead of china plate, but the general had made a new plate for the general, who had been too busy to attend to the matter until after the armistice was signed.

Carnation

by the case

For Economy and Convenience

MANY experienced housekeepers have always practiced quantity buying. More and more of them are taking up this method of buying as the wisdom of this plan is being generally realized. They buy Carnation by the case because it is the economical way to buy pure, wholesome milk. Try this plan in your home. You will find that Carnation keeps indefinitely until opened and after opening will "keep sweet" for several days when kept in a cool, dry place. It will save money for you because you use just as much or as little as you need—there is no waste.

THE best way to learn the convenience of Carnation is to make a practice of always keeping a case on hand. Then you are always sure of a ready supply of pure, safe milk. Remember that Carnation is just cows milk, with a part of the water removed by evaporation so that when you add an equal quantity of water to the 48 Tall sized cans packed in a case of Carnation, you have 48 quarts of pure cows milk.

CARNATION is an every purpose milk. It is used by thousands of good cooks for creaming vegetables and all general cooking, for whipping, ice cream, frozen desserts, mayonnaise dressing, home-made candies, on fruits, with cereals, as an infant food, etc. Carnation, because of its purity and high quality adds to the wholesomeness of other foods.

Cream your coffee with Carnation—that's another economy.

SHOW 'EM THE WAY TO IDORA THE "FUN PORT" OF THE WEST

HOOVER LAYS HIGH PRICES TO GAMBLERS

Food Dictator Declares Supply in Europe Large and Predicts Surplus in U. S. With Cost Much Reduced

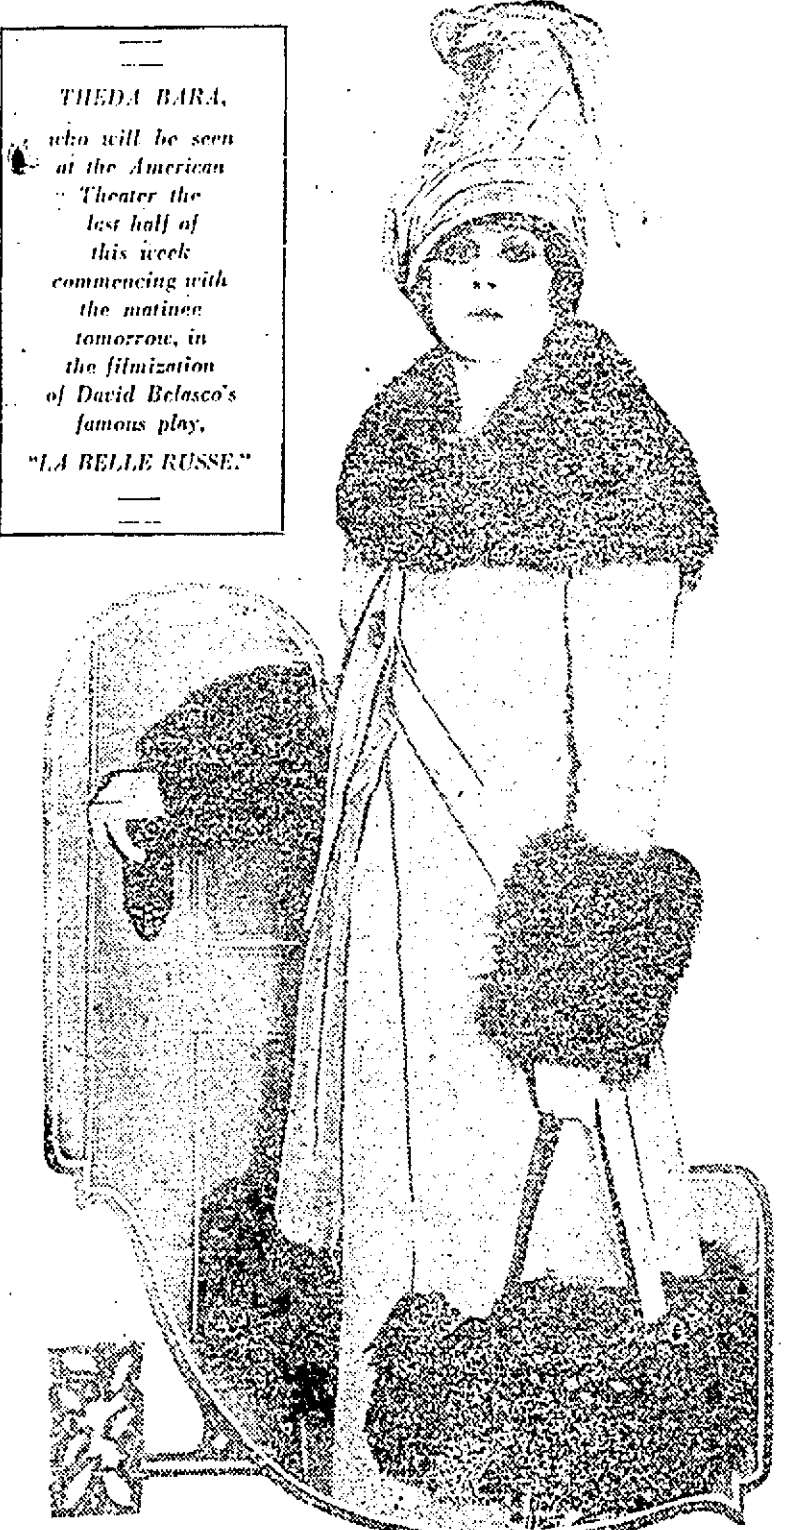

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS
LEARNED FROM TRIBUNE

PARIS, Monday Sept. 1.—A distressing era of speculation in foodstuffs in the United States and throughout the world's primary food markets is largely responsible for high food costs, in the opinion of Herbert Hoover, chairman of the Inter-Allied Relief Commission, who on the eve of his departure for the United States, granted the Associated Press an interview today.

Wharves and warehouses in Northern European ports are overflowing with foodstuffs, sent by merchants from all over the world, Hoover said. These merchants, he declared, had gambled on sales in Poland, Czechoslovakia, the Baltic States and Germany at high prices but these states have only a depreciated local currency and many commodities are in danger of spoiling as the Central European market for foodstuffs is limited to the ability of the peoples to buy on credit.

"This year's speculations," Hoover said, "are due, in my opinion, chiefly to the belief of food merchants and manufacturers that when the blockade was removed there would be an enormous demand for foodstuffs and other commodities in Central and Eastern Europe. This speculation was not due to any important shortage, at present of actual supply. This speculation fever which was not confined to foods was greatly stimulated by the long delay in the removal of the blockade until the peace treaty was signed at Versailles."

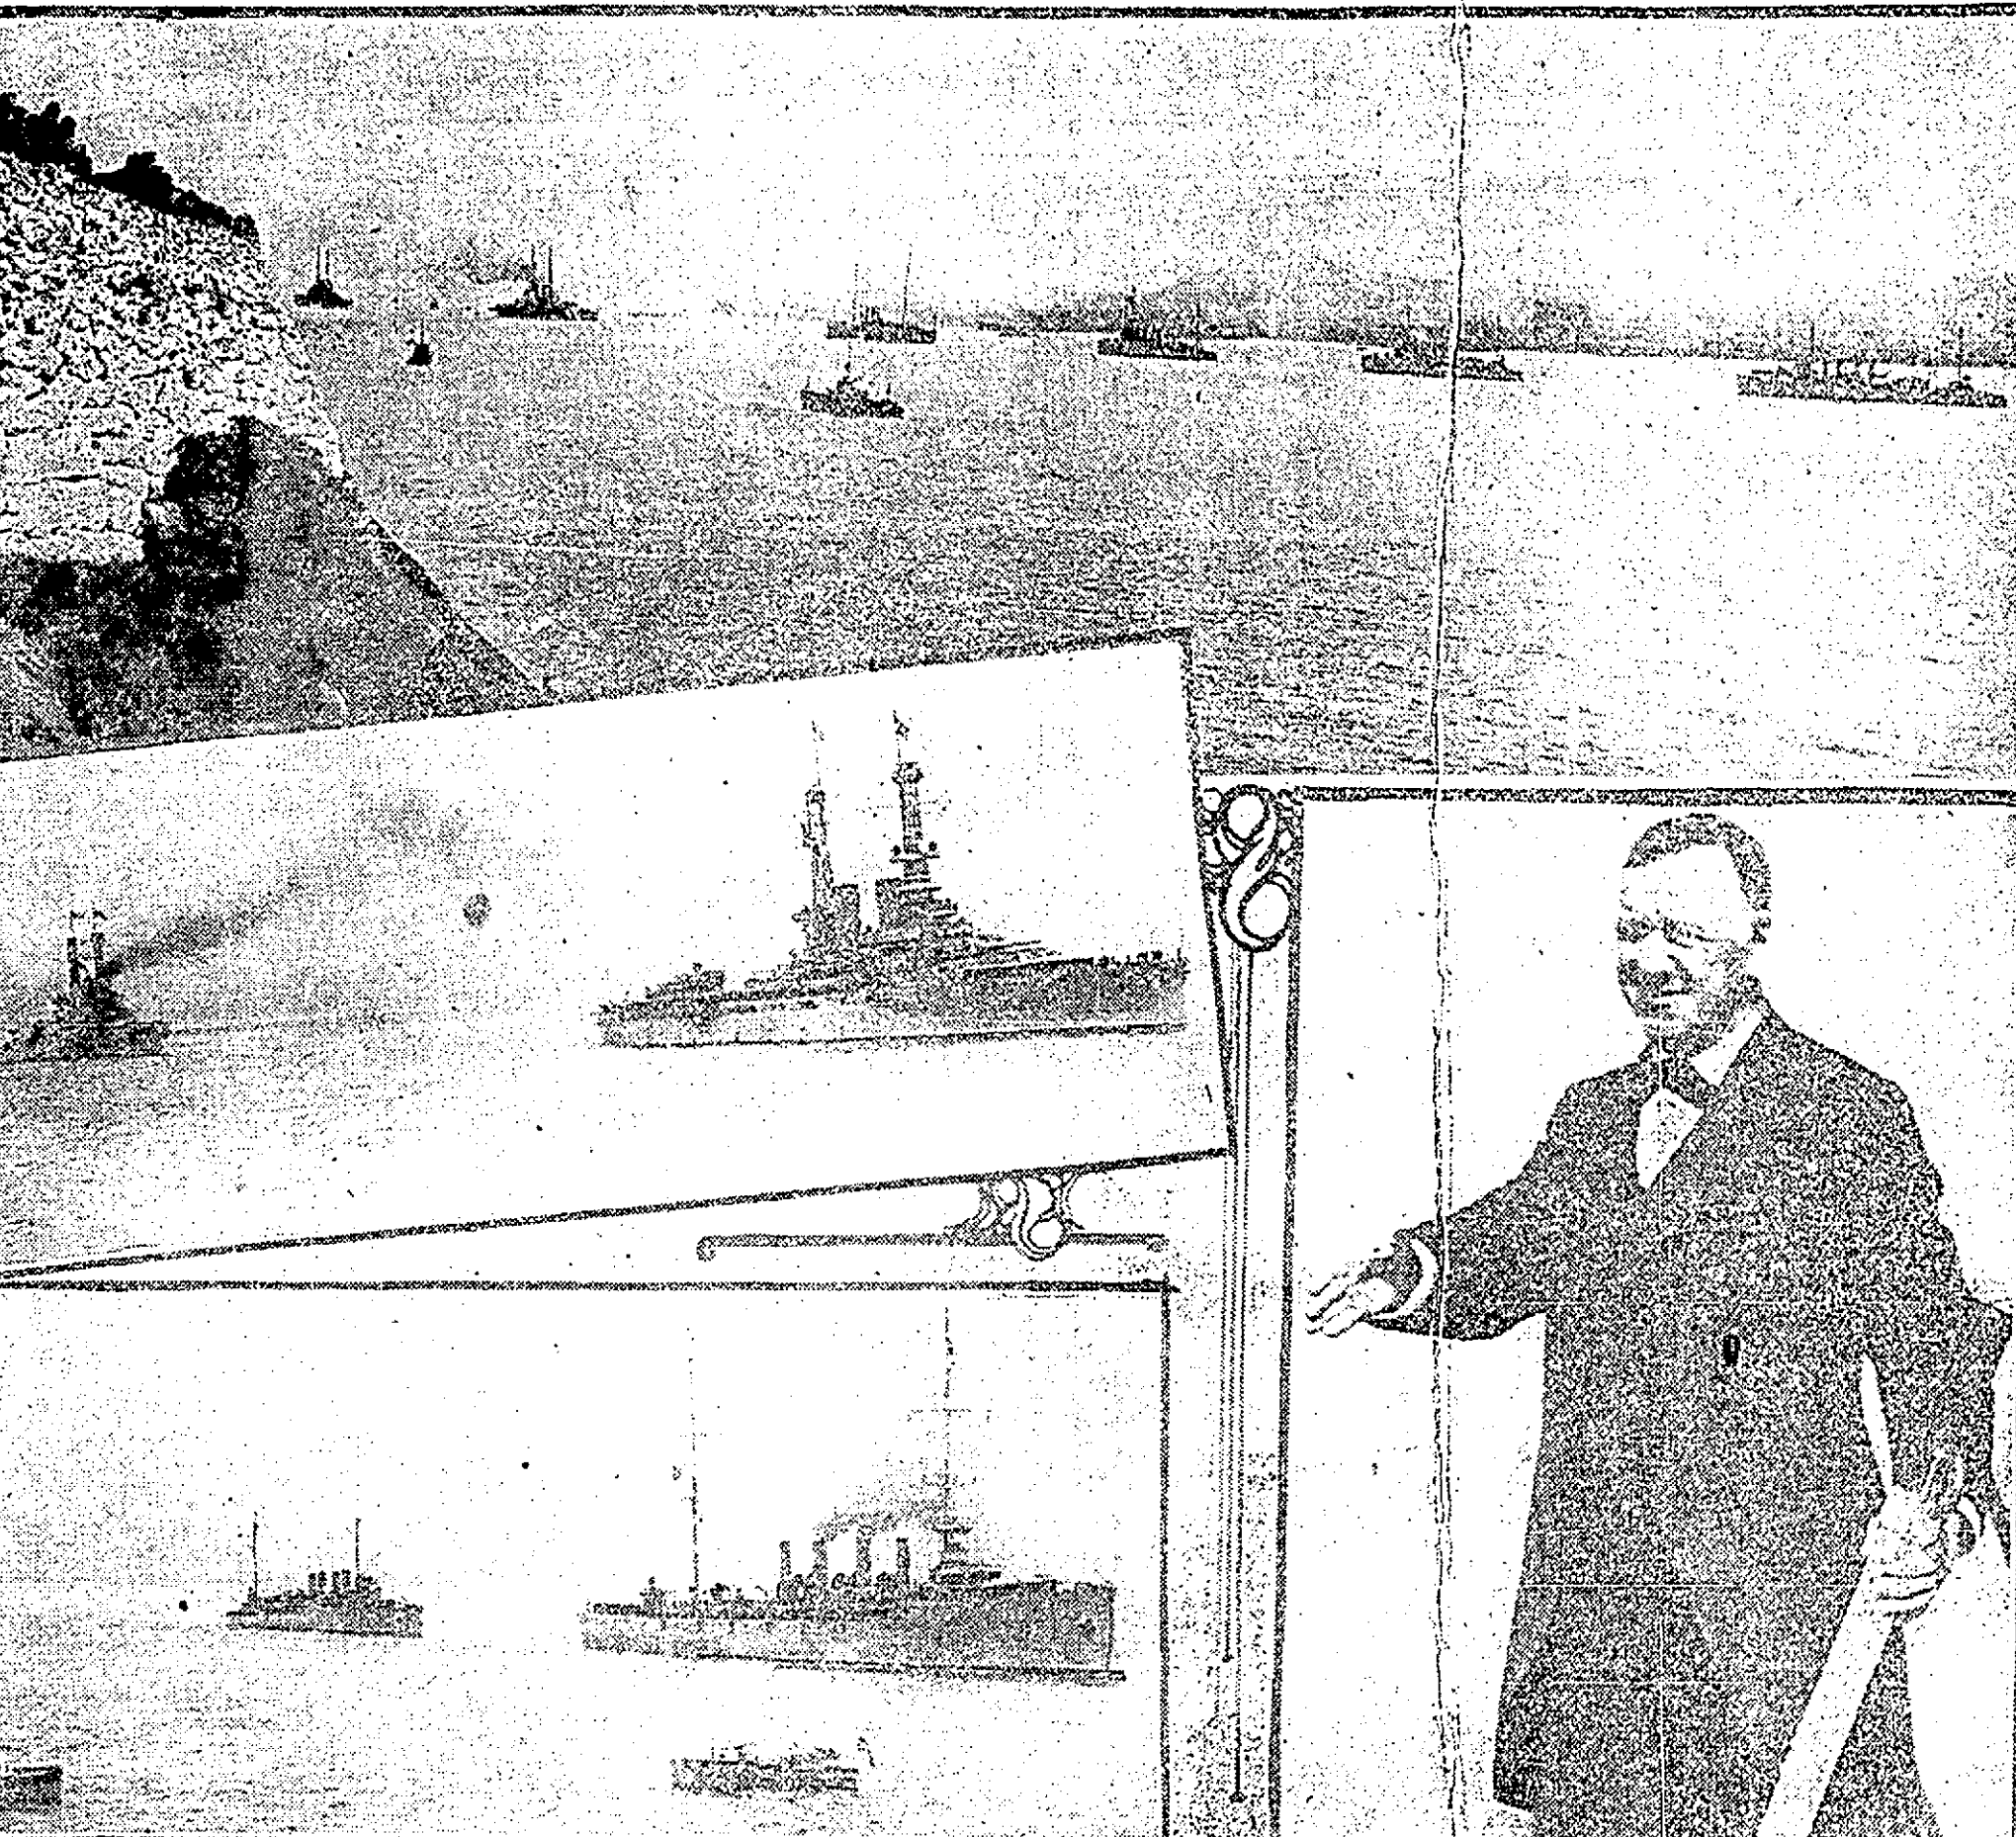

"La Belle Russe," Belasco Play, Is American Feature

Theda Bara, who will be seen at the American Theater the last half of this week commencing with the matinee tomorrow, in the finalization of David Belasco's famous play, "LA BELLE RUSSE."

Theda Bara in "La Belle Russe" and Hale Hamilton in "The Fourflusher" will provide splendid entertainment at the American Theater tomorrow to Saturday.

"La Belle Russe" is a drama of strange adventure, romance and mystery, complications in which Miss Bara assumes a remarkable dual role, portraying two distinct and amazing types of characters. She appears as a popular Parisian dancer, a passionate, revengeful girl of sin, and a beautiful, virtuous, and famous stage play.—Advertisement.

OAKLAND FIGHTS FERRY FARE RAISE

Oakland launched a fight today against the increase of ferry fares to San Francisco, the battle being started with a resolution, adopted by the city council, instructing City Attorney H. L. Hazen to "resist the increase" of both the Key Route and the Southern Pacific. The fight, it is intimated, will assume proportions of national interest. Hazen today said that he was ready to proceed at once and that he had a program for legal action outlined, but said that he would not disclose it at the present time for fear of "tipping his hand."

That the fight against the fare increase will assume national proportions was disclosed in the fact that Senator Hiram Johnson has been apprised of the raise and, according to local politicians, will make it a part of his fight with the presidency in view. Johnson's first election as governor was on a campaign of "fighting railroad domination."

According to Hazen the city franchisees gave the council the right to adjust ferry fares, and he further holds that the Southern Pacific rate, lowered originally to meet competition, cannot be legally raised again, the state law providing for this.

Station Arrests 50 Speeders in Month

Indicating that the campaign inaugurated by Chief of Police J. P. Lynch against speeders is bearing fruit in the eastern division, Captain W. F. Woods reported that out of 63 arrests in August, 50 were for speeding.

The campaign has been unremitting in eastern districts.

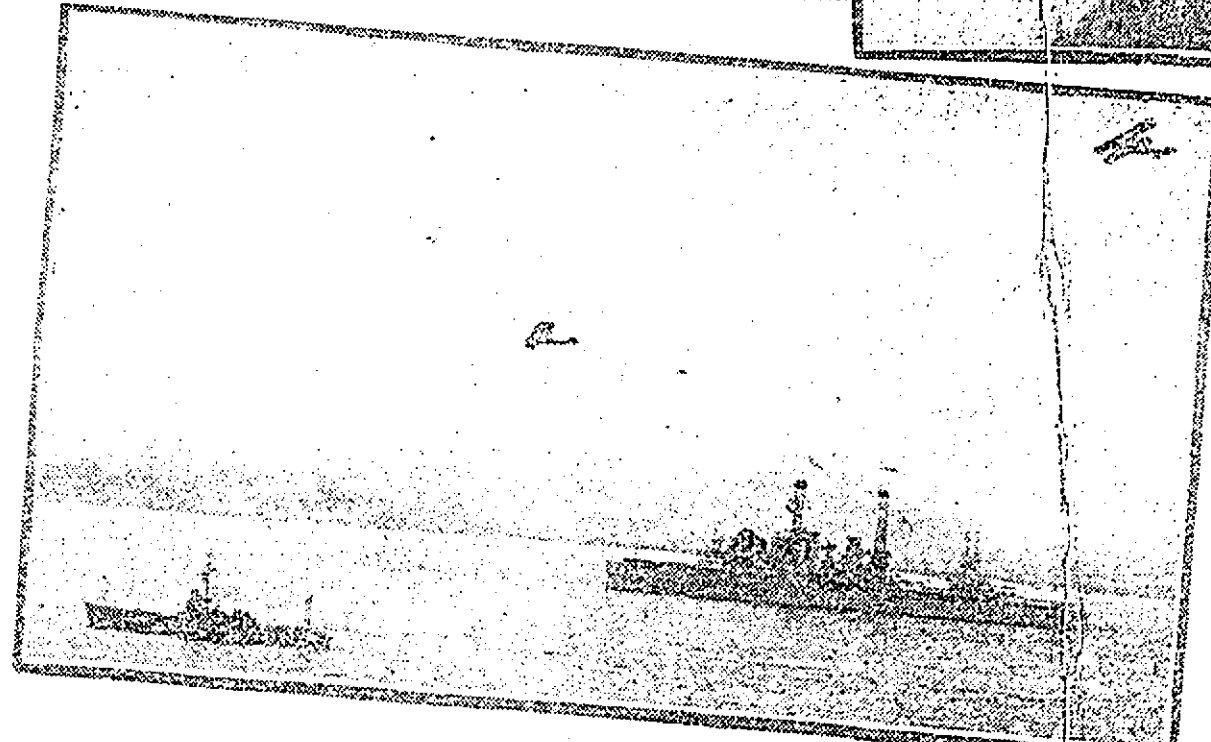

Three of the month's arrests were for drunkenness.

Train Hits Wagon; Man Badly Injured

Smashed by a Southern Pacific train, entangled and pushed twenty-five feet along the tracks in his laundry wagon, Herbert A. Ongerth, living at 2422 East Eleventh street, was injured severely this afternoon. He was treated at the Emergency hospital. Ongerth is employed by the New Process French Laundry company. The accident damaged the laundry wagon heavily.

STORE ROBBERED.

Forty cigars of a popular brand, a box of gum and a box of cigarettes, besides loose change amounting to $5 was the loot of a robbery at 1455 Thirty-fourth street.

Among interested onlookers at review were eight hundred military prisoners on Alcatraz Island. Upper picture shows a group of them viewing parade. Next below is an Alcatraz view of the parade with the Mississippi, Texas and Wyoming in the lead. Next below appears the head of destroyer column as it appeared from the Oregon with scout cruiser Birmingham leading. Left below, Idaho as she steamed past the reviewing vessel. DECISION IS DUE ON BOCK TONIGHT

Decision is scheduled tonight by the Civil Service board in the matter of Police Captain Charles Bock, whose appeal was heard last week from his order of dismissal by Commissioner P. F. Morse. Members of the Civil Service board today said that the final decision as to whether he would be returned to duty or not has not been reached, and would not until transcripts of the Cockrell trial were read tonight. This transcript, together with transcripts of the Nodderman trial and the Grand Jury hearing into police graft were the basis of the charges brought against the police captain by Morse, who held that Bock had been remiss in not reporting suspected graft by former Chief J. H. Nodderman to him at once.

HIGGINS WILL WELCOME FLEET AND OFFICERS

Preston W. Higgins, secretary to Mayor John L. Davis, chairman of the fleet welcome financial committee, will be the principal speaker on behalf of Oakland tomorrow when the Chamber of Commerce acts as host to Secretary of the Navy Josephus Daniels. Mayor John L. Davis will open the luncheon with a brief speech of welcome on behalf of the city, introducing H. M. Fitzgerald as toastmaster. Fitzgerald will introduce Higgins, who is to speak on "Oakland's Welcome to the Fleet."

Governor William D. Stephens will give California's welcome, and Secretary Daniels is scheduled for a brief response. The luncheon will take place at the Hotel Oakland at noon.

MOTHERS TO MEET.

Clawson School Mothers' club will hold its regular meeting Thursday, September 4, in the assembly rooms of the school, Mrs. Q. Turk, president, to preside. A dance will be held Friday evening under the auspices of the Mothers' club.

BURGULAR GUY'S WATCHES.

A trench was used to tear off a lock at the residence of Mrs. W. C. Mark, 331 East Twenty-fourth street, by thieves early this morning. According to a police report the loot carried away consisted of two gold watches, a chain, breastpin and $2 in change.

BAR LICENSES IN OAKLAND SOUGHT

Oakland saloonkeepers still hope for the lifting of the wartime prohibition ban any day. Today a batch of new saloon license applications were filed with bonds with the city clerk, and one protest came with a license application for a restaurant and bar, or cafe.

The applicants are Ross and Greighino, Thomas Brown and Matt Parro, and P. A. Nielsen and C. Martin, and saloon licenses, and H. A. Balcon for a cafe at 351 Ninth street. A protest from neighbors is filed against the latter. They will be referred to the city council for action.

BOY, 13, SENT TO STORE DISAPPEARS

Missing since last Saturday, 13-year-old Frank Perry of 979 Twenty-ninth avenue, is today being sought in all bay districts. In response to the mother's frantic appeals the police of all bay cities are doing their utmost to get some trace of the lad's location.

According to a report to Desk Sergeant M. P. Reilly at Central station, young Perry went out to get a loaf of bread for his mother last Saturday. He had a dollar. The boy did not return home and inquiry at the bakery where he was supposed to have gone divulged he had not been there.

The boy is described as having brown hair, brown eyes and light complexion. A distinguishing mark is a scar over his left eye.

SENSATIONAL SCHOOL PROBE IS PROMISED

Campbell Declares Shake-Up Will Result in Complete Reorganization of Storehouse Department in Near Future

A shakeup involving all employees of the school department storehouse, and a complete reorganization of this branch of the school department, is intimated as the result of the by School Director Fred A. Campbell against employees there was heard at an executive meeting of the Board of Education.

The members of the board visited one of the employees at his home, hearing held last night, when charges questioning him closely as to how materials bought by the city were being handled. They refuse to make public the name of this employee, holding that it might do him damage in case he is cleared of suspicion.

Before I got through we will have a complete shakeup in the storehouse," said Campbell today. "There has been no vestige of system there in handling materials and goods, and I believe that the entire department should be gone over and new employees and a new system installed."

Campbell says that his investigation of the store house followed his investigation that resulted in charges against Dan W. Pratt, resigned business manager, whom Campbell accused of having appropriated school auto tires for his own use. Materials have come and gone from the store house without being checked, he says, and some of them, he holds, did not find their way into the schools.

FEWER DRUNKS ON POLICE BLOTTER

Eight hundred and eight arrests were made in Oakland in the past month, according to the police tabulation completed today. Out of these but twenty-five were "drunks." Although the sum total of arrests compared in proportion with the pre-prohibition days.

While drunkenness has fallen off, according to the police, there has been a slight increase in petty crime. There are three theft cases where the thief stole liquor. The arrests listed include fourteen "bootleggers" arrested by the Oakland police and turned over to federal authorities.

Prohibition has apparently made little difference in the number of arrests," said Desk Sergeant M. P. Reilly, "save to change the form of crime. In fact, the work of a policeman has been made more difficult in this regard, a drunk is always found without trouble and arrested without trouble, while other forms of crime must be detected and watched. Traffic regulation has taken many men from other duty, and the force is still short handed in point of needed men, despite prohibition, which was expected to leave us with nothing to do."

VETERANS AGAIN RAP YOUNTVILLE

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 2.—Spanish war veterans in national convention here today took up conditions at the veterans home at Yountville. Charges of bad conditions there were read into the record and sent to the National Tribune, official organ of the veterans for publication.

More than 2000 delegates and many visitors are attending the sessions.

A campaign to have all war veterans' associations amalgamated in one organization of ex-service men is expected to be brought up.

OAKS WIND UP SERIES WITH SEALS BY WINNING GAME

EVERY EFFORT WAS MADE TO MAKE LOCAL PENNANT WINNERS THIS YEAR

LOCAL MAGNATES HAVE SPENT $16,250 FOR PLAYERS THIS YEAR

J. Cal and Del Hear the Call of the Orchard and May Dispose of Their Holdings

Maury Schick threw a terrible scare into the Oaks yesterday afternoon when he jammed a homer into the left field bleachers in the ninth inning when the Oaks were leading, 5 to 3. Luckily for the House of Howard, there were no runners on the paths when Maury poked his four-cushion drive, or there would have been extra innings or maybe another victory for the Seals. The homer made it 5 to 4 with two in the morgue, and the redoubtable Red McKee gave the Oaks another fit of palpitation when he bit off a binger. Casey Smith was sent to bat for the youngster Lundberg, who had succeeded Couch, and Casey is well known as a dangerous pinch hitter. McKee was nesting on first and the Seal fans were clamoring for a hit. Casey braced himself, and taking a mighty swing, he connected—and rolled the ball down to Sammy Doherty, who threw to Arlett to wind up the game and give the Oaks the surprise of their young lives. Winning a ball game after dropping two double-headers in two days is some considerable surprise.

Falkenberg Deserved To Win His Game.

Old Cal Falkenberg, the center for the Oaks and the big fellow deserved to win, as he was steady as a rock in the pitcher's box. The Seals' other clubs in the league declare that Falkenberg "has not got anything," but Cal fooled them again yesterday. The Seals looked easy to hit but when the Seals did land they could not do any harm to themselves. Johnny Couch pitched good ball in spite of the fact that he was hit by the Oaks but he was not over the plate. The Seals' pitcher, Johnny Lundberg, pitched the seventh and eighth innings, but he was hit by the Oaks in the seventh and eighth.

Krivosky AND MURPHY BOX TO DRAW

Krivosky and Spauld Murphy, the two stars of the Oaks, were the main event in an all-star card which was given at the benefit of the Seals' pitcher, Johnny Lundberg. The match was a floundering contest for the Seals' pitcher, Johnny Lundberg, who was hit by the Oaks in the seventh and eighth.

No Games Here Until Thursday.

There will be no more "fast league" baseball here until Thursday, when the Oaks and Seals' pitcher, Johnny Lundberg, will play a double-header at the local grounds. The Seals' pitcher, Johnny Lundberg, will play a double-header at the local grounds.

Dempsey May Go TO FRANCE FOR CARPENTIER

DECATUR, Ill., Sept. 2.—Jack Dempsey, heavyweight champion, and Georges Carpentier, French champion, will meet in England for a prize of $10,000. The fight will be held at the local grounds.

Tie Game Featured By Pitching of Peterson, Kolger

The Oaks' pitcher, Peterson, and the Seals' pitcher, Kolger, pitched a tie game in the local grounds. The game was a floundering contest for the Seals' pitcher, Johnny Lundberg, who was hit by the Oaks in the seventh and eighth.

McGooty, the local champion, is ready to mix with Beckett, the champion from the local grounds. The game was a floundering contest for the Seals' pitcher, Johnny Lundberg, who was hit by the Oaks in the seventh and eighth.

Anglers' A Nook

Anglers' A Nook is a new book by the local champion, McGooty. The book is a floundering contest for the Seals' pitcher, Johnny Lundberg, who was hit by the Oaks in the seventh and eighth.

Chinese A. C. Nine Loses to Mariners

The Chinese A. C. Nine lost to the Mariners in the local grounds. The game was a floundering contest for the Seals' pitcher, Johnny Lundberg, who was hit by the Oaks in the seventh and eighth.

LAKE COURSE MARKED Heavyweights Are Training

ENTRIES TO CLOSE IN NEAR FUTURE REGISTER WITH P. A. A.

For Big Bout

By HERBERT HAUSER.

The diagram of The TRIBUNE Merritt Marathon course which appeared in Sunday's paper gave a clear and concise map of the race. With this description in one's mind it will be impossible for any one to become lost in any manner. Checkers will be stationed at given points and as each contestant passes his number will be marked down so that there can be no dispute as to each runner covering the full course.

DRESS IN PAVILION.

Arrangements have been made for the runners to dress in the Pavilion. Entries will close on next Thursday evening with the Sporting Editor. The blanks will then be turned over to the P. A. I. registration committee, and all those who have not secured registration cards will have their names scratched off. No matter how many times this necessity is mentioned in these columns never a day passes but some entrant sends in his blank without a P. A. I. number. To an outsider this may seem an unnecessary feature, but it is the only system by which amateur athletics can be controlled and is a protection both for the individual and the organization under whose colors he participates.

RITTNER IS ACTIVE.

The announcement that a diamond medal will be awarded the first local high school boy to finish has caused great excitement among the high school athletes about the bay and all the physical directors are busy lining up their best men. Otto Rittner, who is once again at the Alameda High School, is busily preparing a team that will cause his opponents much reason for thought. Otto is a fellow that cannot be denied and has always been one of the very hard workers in the preceding races. During the past two years he has been in the Y. M. C. A. Army service, first at Vancouver, B. C., and later at North Island, in both of which places he made a most enviable record.

Sugarites Find That Robinson Can Mix Them

The Pitching of Robinson for Union Construction team is one of the best of the day. The new hurler which Frank Graves signed for the Constructors, surely lived up to his reputation by beating the Crockett Sugarites in thirteen innings by a 4-to-3 score. The Sugarites got to him for three runs and two hits in the second inning, and from then on he allowed only three hits, one in the seventh and the others in the twelfth and thirteenth.

Birbeck worked for the Sugarites and had to keep ten hits scattered in the ninth and tenth. Robinson, however, made the Crockett Sugarites go to the third inning. The Constructors scored two in the seventh on hits by Matheson and Downey, and scored three in the eighth on hits by Matheson and Downey. The Constructors scored three in the eighth on hits by Matheson and Downey. The Constructors scored three in the eighth on hits by Matheson and Downey.

TWO KILLED, EIGHT HURT IN AUTO MISHAPS

Two dead and eight injured in the toll of holiday automobile accidents in which four autos were wrecked, a truck badly damaged and several other cars had narrow escapes in the Fleet day traffic congestion.

The dead: Harry Pieratti, 535 East Fifteenth street, 5 years old.

The injured: Mrs. May Roberts, mother of J. J. Roberts of Stege.

George Pieratti, driver of car in which injured persons were riding, severely cut by flying glass and other minor injuries.

Ray Mazzini, 2225 East Fifteenth street, Oakland, internal injuries.

Ray Mazzini, 2225 East Fifteenth street, Oakland, broken leg and other minor injuries.

C. Conardi, 805 Fifty-second avenue, Oakland, cut by glass and other bruises.

Mrs. P. W. Anderson, 2335 Benvenue street, Berkeley, internal injuries.

The accident in which the Pieratti boy was killed, and in which the rest of the party in his father's machine was injured, occurred at Fortieth avenue and East Fortieth street, when the Pieratti car crashed into one driven by Ray Mazzini of Walnutville, who was returning from Oakland with his family.

Pieratti's car was overturned and totally wrecked, the child being thrown more than twenty feet by the impact.

The injured were taken to the Alameda sanitarium by the police ambulance and will recover, according to medical attendants there.

Pieratti told the police that he did not see the other car approaching until it was within five feet of him, and that he was unable to stop his car in the distance.

The accident in which Roberts lost his life occurred on the state highway when the machine he and his mother were in collided with one driven by H. J. Brown of 5452 Broadway. Mrs. Roberts was injured in the accident in which her son was killed, and was taken to the Alameda sanitarium.

Brown was arrested by the highway patrol and released on bail. Riding with him were Owen Overman Jr. and his sister, Genevieve Overman, children of Dr. Owen Overman.

Mrs. P. W. Anderson, 2335 Benvenue street, Berkeley, is at the Alameda sanitarium in a serious condition as the result of an accident on the Alameda road when her husband's machine overturned while seeking to avoid collision with a stage. Both were pinned under the machine and Anderson managed to extricate herself and summon help.

They charge that the stage did not stop to render any assistance. The Alameda authorities are investigating.

Mrs. Anderson was extricated with the assistance of Attorney William A. Dower of Calaveras county and Attorney Richard Cook of Tompkins, Nevada, who had come along soon after the accident in another car, accompanied by their wives. Mrs. Anderson recovered consciousness when the big machine was lifted off her body, but was still bleeding profusely from many cuts and was brought here for treatment. Whether her injuries are serious or not cannot be known for several days.

K. of C. Will Keep Open House While
Gobs Are Guests of Eastbay Municipalities

MISS LOUISE WARD, one of the Knights of Columbus-Young Ladies Institute-Daughters of Isabella hostesses to the Fleet, putting up one of the "Casey" posters at Knights of Columbus hall, Thirteenth and Grove streets.

Y. L. I. Girls to Serve Buffet
Luncheon; Cold Drinks
Dispensed

Boy Scouts have delivered the Knights of Columbus invitation to the men of the big Pacific Fleet to enjoy the open house of the K. of C. clubhouse, 660 Thirteenth street.

The Knights of Columbus have prepared a regular family affair for the boys of the fleet who visit Oakland.

Buffet luncheon will be served continuously by pretty Y. L. I. girls. There will be "cats" for everyone from morning until night, during the entire week.

And tomorrow the K. C. Water Wagon—a big, yellow affair—carrying a burden of sweet cider, lemonade, and other soft drinks, will be on hand in the downtown streets to serve the thirsty among the sailor men who come here to enjoy East Bay hospitality on Oakland Fleet Day.

Berkeley and Alameda lodges of the Knights of Columbus are assisting and cooperating with the local lodge.

BUILDING TIED UP

SEATTLE, Wash., Sept. 2.—Building operations were practically at a standstill throughout this city today as a result of the deadlock between the Master Builders' association and unions affiliated with the building trades council.

Singer Goes East,
Preparatory to Debut

Preparatory to her debut here as a singer, Miss Adeline Barnard, 101 Warfield avenue, left yesterday for a two months' tour of the East in company with her sister, Miss Julia Barnard.

The young woman announced that she would be singing at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. Barnard, 101 Warfield avenue, tomorrow night.

They will visit all Eastern cities. It was a hoax. No report has been received from the police.

where they have relatives, is in their schedule. Miss Adeline Barnard has been training for her entrance into the concert world for some time.

Her sister is a local school teacher.

DREW BIG PAY

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.
LEASSED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—The house subcommittee investigating ordnance expenditures during the war last night made public testimony taken in its hearings showing that the government shell loading plant at Fort Bel, uncompleted when the armistice was signed, cost the government to date $14,000,000, although the estimated cost when the contract was let on the cost-plus basis was placed at from $12,500,000 to $15,000,000.

The difference between the estimated cost and the total thus far $14,000,000, the assistant manager, a lawyer and former bond salesman, from $12,000,000 to $15,000,000, the chief engineer from $7500 a year with $30 a month for living expenses to $10,000 a year, and the treasurer from $4500 to $5000.

Major Foster's report cited some of the salaries paid by the leading company and the Ley company with advanced in pay made after a few months' service. The manager of the former company, the report asserted, had his salary raised from $10,000 to $15,000; the assistant manager, a lawyer and former bond salesman, from $12,000 to $15,000; the chief engineer from $7500 a year with $30 a month for living expenses to $10,000 a year, and the treasurer from $4500 to $5000.

Government officers questioned as to the treasurer's duties said they never had been able to see that he did anything except endorse the government's checks and sign those of the leading company.

"Please bear in mind," said Major Foster's report, "that all these salaries do not come out of the leading company's fee. The government pays them and then pays 10 per cent on top of them."

The testimony made reference to a recent request of the war department for an appropriation of $185,000 to purchase additional land at the site, although Major Foster asserted that "most of it is swamp."

"Please bear in mind," said Major Foster's report, "that all these salaries do not come out of the leading company's fee. The government pays them and then pays 10 per cent on top of them."

The testimony made reference to a recent request of the war department for an appropriation of $185,000 to purchase additional land at the site, although Major Foster asserted that "most of it is swamp."

"Government officers questioned as to the treasurer's duties said they never had been able to see that he did anything except endorse the government's checks and sign those of the leading company."

Country Cousins Flock to See Fleet
And They Are Well Treated, Too

The "country cousin" is here.

He is apparent on street, in cars, at parks or theaters. The city relatives snort him by a bit of confusion, perhaps, in his manner, or astute detectives as these city folk are, by his satchels and odd packages and babies.

Perhaps there's a lot of him in a bunch, betraying his recent surroundings by some lack of "cityfied" style or dash.

Perhaps it's a somewhat gangling youth with a timid young bride on his arm, telling as plainly as plain words could that now the Pacific has a fleet he thinks it's safe to wed and raise a family.

COME TO GREET TARS.

So, naturally, he's come down to greet Admiral Rodman and his jolly tars and tell them all that if they're over up his way to drop in for a wild blackberry pie.

These have been fat years for the farmer and he has money to spend, but he's likely to be a little careful, too, for the "country cousin" is apt to realize the value of saving.

Buy gold bricks? Why, say, the "country cousin" is laughing up his sleeve at the cleverest trick of the kind; he's "on," city folks, he concedes, buy gold bricks every day when they pay inflated prices for everything. The "country cousin" knows a thing or two; he gets his money's worth, if he buys clothes he's aware what's in the cloth; he doesn't just purchase "looks."

That's what the merchants of the bay cities are learning if they haven't learned before, they're finding that the happy looks on the faces of the visitors, spite of crowded hotels, crowded streets, crowded cars, crowded theaters, even a crowded harbor, they're finding that the city relations are treating them pretty decently.

THEY'RE NOT STUNG.

They're taking advantage of this trip to buy for the coming fall and winter, and they're not getting stung; either, if they know it, and the city merchant generally will concede that they're awake.

Looking over the crowds, one may spot here and there, the runaways, boys or girls who have skipped away from home to come to the city and see the jack tars. The police and other relief organizations have their hands full. Romances are budding every hour and some of them have to be nipped and others go on, for better or worse.

These outsiders are making more friends in an hour than a regular city denizen would in a month, perhaps the friendships are transitory, ephemeral. In some cases they will not be.

One stalks about and watches, grins sometimes and sometimes sighs—and wishes Sidney Prior were here to put down all one feels at the drama that our visitors are living.

SHIPS ARE EXPLORED.

A drama with a background of majesty, the gray ships, dreadnaughts and capital ships, are impressive within the wondrous shelter of a harbor with a million folk living on its shores.

The "country cousin," far more than his city relation, is exploring those ships, going down into the engine rooms, looking longingly toward the bridge, hearing the tales of the great cannons, wisps of narrative about the great war.

Many of the "country cousins" were in the war, too, and a lot of the naive wonder was worn away.

But they're still "country cousins."

What they're still "country cousins."

City folks?

It's not so hard to keep a native son down on the farm.

Jingle Jolts

By Harvey E. Westgate.

Beware, you men who come ashore, for danger's lurking near, there's danger in each hug and kiss and even in a tear; our lassies will ensnare you (just take a tip from me), and they'll take and capture you, before you go to sea.

Beware, you roving jacksies, or you will lose your heart, for pretty girls are waiting here in every town and mart; they'll take you out a-walking, and then begin to coo, and if you are not careful, men, they'll surely capture you.

Oh, our girls, will be a-smiling, and their cheeks will be a-glow, and they'll meet you at the ferry and they'll take you all in tow, and they'll dance you 'til you're spoony, and then sing and laugh and shout, and at last they will ensnare you, if you don't—watch—out!

STRUCK DOWN
BY BANDITS AT HIS DOORSTEP

Attacked by two men, one of them armed with a heavy bludgeon, almost at the doorway of his home at 1 o'clock this morning, Charles Bryson of 843 Union street, was painfully injured.

He yelled and frightened the hold-up men off, after they had robbed him of several dollars in silver. Bryson was in a daze when picked up by a neighbor who heard his calls for help. He was rushed to the receiving hospital and there treated for two deep lacerations.

According to his report to the police, Bryson had been witnessing the night festivities of the fleet in San Francisco and had returned home on the last boat.

On approaching his doorstep, he says his arms were suddenly pinched behind him, while two hands delved into his pockets. Bryson struggled strenuously until one of the hold-ups felled him with a heavy instrument.

Police inspectors Gunnaw and Tracy went to the scene and searching the neighborhood, could find no trace of the men.
